Solons Take SCD Proposal Under Study

Pickaway County's Board of Commissioners devoted considerable study yesterday to the controversial Scioto Conservancy District dam and flood control proposal.

The solons discussed the project with Prosecutor Robert H. Huffer. It was indicated today the legislators will file an objection on the assessments the county would be required to pay.

The SCD proposal is expected to come under additional study during tonight's regular meeting of City Council. The deadline for filing exceptions is Aug. 17.

In other business, the Commissioners were informed that a proposal to install flashing lights at the Norfolk & Western Railroad crossing in Duval has been submitted for state approval. The flashers would replace an existing wig-wag signal.

A RESOLUTION authorizing the County Engineer to proceed with building abutments for a bridge over Lick Run was approved. The structure is on County Road 17 in Jackson Twp.

The county fathers received a permit from the Ohio Pollution Control Board authorizing the Knollwood Village Sewer District to discharge treated waste into Hargus Creek. The grant expires July 15, 1965.

The purchase of an electric typewriter for the County Common Pleas Court was approved. Cost of the machine was listed at $475.20.

Stores in Circleville will observe "Dollar Day" on Thursday.

Merchants have offered a welcome to all visitors to the Pickaway County Fair which is in session this week. The special sales event has been designed as an added treat for those taking in the Fair-ground activity.

Merchandise with year-round purposes, plus items accenting summer and fall use, will be offered at reduced prices.

Ohio's State Flag Sent to Viet Nam

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A state pennant which has been flying above Ohio's Statehouse is on its way to an airfield on the Mekong Delta of South Viet Nam.

Gov. James A. Rhodes ordered the 3-by-5-foot flag sent to the U. S. Army's 114th Aviation Group there today. He had received a request in a letter of July 24 from the helicopter outfit's commander, Maj. George J. Young.

Young said his 325 men come from almost every state in the union. They are not authorized to fly the American flag so he wants to set up a "Boulevard of the United States" lined with the 50 state flags from the main gate of the base to the air strip.

Pickaway Fair in Session; Plenty of Activity Slated

The 1964 version of the Pickaway County Fair jumped off to a flying start last night, with plenty of activity on the bill for the rest of the week.

Weather was on the warm side, but there was enough of a breeze to bring out an enthusiastic group of spectators. Today's forecast calls for temperature of a more pleasing aspect.

The Fair was officially opened at 6 p. m. with a flag-raising ceremony by Boy Scouts and an appearance by Oliver P. Bolton, GOP candidate for Ohio congressman-at-large. The always novel tractor pull got under way at 8 p. m. as did the Junior Fair Livestock Judging contest. The first round of horse shoe pitching qualifying also started.

Viewed with interest last night were the many improvements that have been completed at the Fairgrounds since last year. These include a new poe barn, a much-needed concrete floor in the hog barn, installation of sidewalk sections, blacktop paving in the Coliseum vicinity and new coats of paint at various buildings.

ALSO AVAILABLE to catch the spectator's eye are countless displays and exhibits in the Coliseum and other buildings. The barns are filled with livestock and plenty of 4-H and FFA youngsters are on hand to keep watch.

William Cook, Fair secretary-manager, says this year's event has all the earmarks of being a dandy from start to finish. A boast from the weatherman should make this a true prediction.

First French Miner Saved

CHAMPAIGN, France (AP) — A giant drill punched a shaft of freedom today for nine miners trapped for eight days deep in a collapsed limestone mine. Then rescuers began gingerly hauling the men to the surface—one at a time in a special metal capsule.

First to reach the surface was Andre Jacques, 28, who seemed slightly dazed. He shielded his eyes from the blaring sun until a rescuer gave him dark glasses.

Relatives and other villagers who had spent long, painful hours waiting on the slopes of Mt. Rivel, cheered as Jacques was helped from the capsule. He was put in an ambulance and sped to a hospital.

In less than an hour, five of the men had reached the surface.

For the 4-H and FFA members preparation for this year's Pickaway County Fair began months ago.

The first manifestation of this preparation came last night with the junior fair judging contest — the results of which will be known later in the week.

The winner of the dairy judging contest will win a heifer, donated by the Circleville Kiwanis Club. Other winners will receive trophies.

The Swine building at the Fairgrounds was a beehive of activity as junior fair members were washing and grooming pigs for the show which started at 9 a. m.

The Pickaway County Fair Junior Swine show is one of the biggest and best of any fair in the state.

Nearly 300 hogs were entered in the market class. An estimated 75 per cent of these hogs were given 'A' grades by Harold DeLong, swine judge.

Bobby Collins of the Salt Creek Livestock Club showed the first place lightweight hog this morning, winning a fine trophy. Eyeing the trophy with only a slight feeling of regret was Terry Reed of Ashville, a former grandchampion winner.

The hog shown by Bobby had come from the Reed swine herd — after Terry's father, Earl, had selected his son's projects from the herd.

Crops and pastures were in the critical stage in Texas today as the long, dry hot spell continued.

In other areas, stifling heat and choking humidity added up to high temperature records for the date.

Municipal water supplies dwindled in parts of Texas and Louisiana. The only spots escaping the long dry spell and the blistering hot weather were around the Texas coastal bend.

Wichita, Kan., reported a high temperature of 108 degrees for a record for Aug. 3. Chicago also experienced the hottest Aug. 3 on record with an average temperature of 87 degrees. Chicago's high of 98 equalled the record for the date set Aug. 3, 1944.

The mercury climbed to 110 degrees in Hutchinson, Kan., and Hennessey, Okla., as the central part of the nation remained in the grip of the heat wave.

GOP Solon Disavows Goldwater Ticket

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. John V. Lindsay of New York's 17th Congressional District says he'll seek a fourth term as a "Republican candidate but without reference to the national ticket."

Lindsay, 42, said Monday supporters of Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential nominee, are trying to defeat him by backing Kieran O'Doherty, the Conservative party nominee in the 17th, Manhattan's "silk stocking" district.

Apportionment Delay Is OKd

Senate Committee Likes Dirksen Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee gave speedy 10-2 approval today to a bill under which states could stave off for two years or more court-ordered legislative reapportionment.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., had asked for the action as a preliminary to a move to attach the measure to some major legislation certain to reach President Johnson's desk.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., reported the vote when he came from a closed meeting of the committee. Keating said he took no position on the legislation, merely voting "present." He did not disclose who cast the two negative votes.

If it becomes law, the bill would permit states or citizens to obtain stays on court-directed reapportionments until the end of the second session of their next legislature.

Federal courts have ordered several states to reapportion both bodies of their legislatures on the basis of the one-man-one-vote rule laid down by the Supreme Court in a series of decisions June 15.

Most state senates are apportioned geographically. The effect of the high court's order would be to give cities greater representation in state legislatures and to reduce the influence of rural areas.

Dirksen said time is needed for Congress to consider a proposed constitutional amendment that would upset the court's order. Such an amendment would have to be approved by three-fourths of the state legislatures to become effective.

Dirksen told the Senate Monday he had served notice on President Johnson Thursday of his intentions. Asked by newsmen what Johnson's attitude was, Dirksen replied:

"I didn't try to commit him in any way. I just wanted him to know what I was planning to do."

The GOP leader said he believes he will have almost solid Republican support for his proposal and can attract enough Democratic support to attach it to some other legislation Johnson would find difficult to veto.

500-Pound Gorilla Gets Fat Hangover

CHICAGO (AP) — Sinbad the gorilla nursed a hangover today, just like anyone else not used to being out on the town.

One of the largest gorillas in captivity, the 6-foot, 500-pound Sinbad slipped out of his cage Monday and romped through 20 minutes of freedom, his first since coming to Lincoln Park Zoo in 1948 as an infant.

Sinbad confined his wanderings to the inner corridor of the monkey house, but alarmed zoo officials evacuated 75 persons from the building and called for the police riot squad.

At one time only a screen door separated the powerful animal from complete freedom.

"If he had come out we would have had to have him killed," said Gene Hartz, assistant zoo director. "There was nothing to keep him in but a screen door and he could have taken it right along with him."

Hartz eventually felled Sinbad by firing a 200-milligram dose of tranquilizer into his shoulder. Five hours after the injection Sinbad was up and around.

"He'll have a pretty bad hangover but that's about all," Hartz said.

Sinbad's freedom began after a keeper momentarily left his cage door open while cleaning. The gorilla lumbered down a hallway into a kitchen where four workers were fixing lunch for animals in the monkey house.

"I never had an ape in my kitchen before," said Barney Gisuti, 54. "I looked twice. Then I went out the front door."

'Soft' Landing On Moon Slated

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Jet Propulsion Laboratory scientists, equipped with 4,316 closeup photographs of the moon, are thinking eagerly of the next major step in man's exploration of the lunar landscape.

It is the Surveyor, a soft-landing spacecraft with cameras that may function on the lunar surface for up to 30 days.

Two more Rangers are scheduled to be launched early next year. Plans call for them to have missions identical to picture-snapping Ranger 7.

Late next year the U. S. Space Agency will fire the first of seven Surveyors, which are three times heavier than the Rangers and have shock absorber legs.

The 806-pound Ranger 7 photographed craters as small as three feet in diameter before it crashed on the moon Friday.

The 2,300-pound Surveyor will be able to take pictures of objects the size of pinheads.

A shot in the arm for Surveyor's designers: A study of Ranger photographs indicates no major changes will be necessary in the planned model.

Surveyor's tripod legs should be able to survive a landing on terrain similar to Ranger's impact area — a crater-pocked plain in the Sea of Clouds.

Surveyor program manager W.E. Gibson says "We will use many of Ranger's technical people as they come off jobs such as testing and design, with the idea of cross-fertilization between the two projects."

"But we're already well along: We've been working on Surveyor since 1960 and we're quite proud of being able to anticipate some of Ranger's findings."

Ranger's pictures indicate the moon has a hard crust covered with a thin layer of dust.

Gibson believes Surveyor's pad-footed, 6-foot-long legs can settle down on such a surface with no damage to its scientific instruments.

Ranger was designed to crash into the moon and it did. Surveyor has a retro-rocket to break its descent and let it fall free to the surface from a height of no more than 10 or 15 feet.

Once it lands, its two television cameras should be able to swing full circle and up and down, giving earth scientists a "you are there" picture of the lunar landscape.

Surveyor also will have a claw on an extendable arm to pick up objects as far away as 10 feet and lift them up to the stereoscopic television eyes for three-dimension scrutiny.

Man Cycles 3244 Miles At Age 80

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — It took Lyman Frain Sr. 86 days to pedal his bicycle from New York's Times Square to San Francisco's Golden Gate Bridge, and he was a little off schedule.

"I figured to make it a little faster," said the 80-year-old Philadelphian, "but I was bucking those west winds all the way."

The aging but hearty cyclist finished his trip Monday. He said he pedaled 3,244 miles on his 12-speed French bicycle, equipped with an extra-low gear for mountains.

"I feel pretty proud of what I've just done," he said. "I'm the first man my age to ever ride a bike from ocean to ocean. I just wanted to prove an old guy still had something left."

"Most men of 60 sit down in the old rocking chair and rock themselves into the grave," he said. "But they'd live 10 or 20 years longer if they'd take up bicycling. If it wasn't for this bicycle, I wouldn't be alive today."

Ship Attack Brings Protest

4 U.S. Warships Leave Hong Kong

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States warned Communist North Viet Nam today of "grave consequences" if any further unprovoked attacks are made against U.S. military forces.

State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey said the American protest was sent to the American Embassy in Saigon for "transmittal to the North Viet Nam regime through appropriate channels."

It is the first such U.S. communication directly to the Red regime, with which this country has no diplomatic ties.

Communication channels exist at the Saigon headquarters of the International Control Commission — composed of India, Canada and Poland — which has authority to supervise the 1954 Geneva agreement which partitioned Viet Nam.

The protest was a sternly worded follow-up to the orders Monday from President Johnson to beef up U.S. naval forces off Viet Nam and to destroy any forces attacking them. A U.S. destroyer fought off three PT boats in the Gulf of Tonkin Sunday.

In the wake of Johnson's orders, the Giant U.S. aircraft carrier Constellation and three other vessels sailed hurriedly from Hong Kong today.

A U.S. spokesman in Hong Kong said the four ships left according to schedule. He declined to give their destination or to say if the move was connected with Johnson's announcement that followed Sunday's attack on the U.S. destroyer Maddox by three North Vietnamese torpedo boats.

In advance of the departure of the four vessels, shore leave was canceled for officers and crew, and the ships apparently were placed on alert.

Besides the Constellation, they included the guided missile frigate Gridley, and the destroyers Preston and Fechteler.

Meanwhile, U.S. officials here were watching to see if the Sunday attack was an isolated incident or part of a hazardous new Communist strategy.

They said it was difficult to determine whether the sudden attack Sunday, which left one of the three Red boats burning, was an accident, a misjudgment or a deliberate provocation.

If similar Red assaults are launched, bolstered American naval units in the Gulf of Tonkin were prepared to carry out President Johnson's orders to destroy any attacking force.

The President announced to newsmen Monday his shoot-to-kill orders to the Navy. Previously orders had been for the naval units to defend themselves.

Relief from Heat Promised to Ohio

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Welcome relief was promised to much of Ohio today as somewhat cooler and less humid Canadian air pushed southward. It was to continue warm, however, over the southern counties and scattered thundershowers were likely near the Ohio River.

Early today temperatures ranged from 62 at Youngstown to 70 at Columbus and 74 at Cincinnati.

Morning cloudiness was to give way to afternoon sunshine and winds were to be light today. Mostly fair and cooler weather with temperatures the lowest in several days was forecast for tonight. For Wednesday the outlook is for fair and a little cooler.

GOP Solon Disavows Goldwater Ticket

NEW YORK (AP)—Rep. John V. Lindsay of New York's 17th Congressional District says he'll seek a fourth term as a "Republican candidate but without reference to the national ticket."

Lindsay, 42, said Monday supporters of Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential nominee, are trying to defeat him by backing Kieran O'Doherty, the Conservative party nominee in the 17th, Manhattan's "silk stocking" district.

Apportionment Delay Is OKd

Senate Committee Likes Dirksen Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee gave speedy 10-2 approval today to a bill under which states could stave off for two years or more court-ordered legislative reapportionment.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., had asked for the action as a preliminary to a move to attach the measure to some major legislation certain to reach President Johnson's desk.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., reported the vote when he came from a closed meeting of the committee. Keating said he took no position on the legislation, merely voting "present." He did not disclose who cast the two negative votes.

If it becomes law, the bill would permit states or citizens to obtain stays on court-directed reapportionments until the end of the second session of their next legislature.

Federal courts have ordered several states to reapportion both bodies of their legislatures on the basis of the one-man-one-vote rule laid down by the Supreme Court in a series of decisions June 15.

Most state senates are apportioned geographically. The effect of the high court's order would be to give cities greater representation in state legislatures and to reduce the influence of rural areas.

Dirksen said time is needed for Congress to consider a proposed constitutional amendment that would upset the court's order. Such an amendment would have to be approved by three-fourths of the state legislatures to become effective.

Dirksen told the Senate Monday he had served notice on President Johnson Thursday of his intentions. Asked by newsman what Johnson's attitude was, Dirksen replied:

"I didn't try to commit him in any way. I just wanted him to know what I was planning to do."

The GOP leader said he believes he will have almost solid Republican support for his proposal and can attract enough Democratic support to attach it to some other legislation Johnson would find difficult to veto.

500-Pound Gorilla Gets Fat Hangover

CHICAGO (AP) — Sinbad the gorilla nursed a hangover today, just like anyone else not used to being out on the town.

One of the largest gorillas in captivity, the 6-foot, 500-pound Sinbad slipped out of his cage Monday and romped through 20 minutes of freedom, his first since coming to Lincoln Park Zoo in 1948 as an infant.

Sinbad confined his wanderings to the inner corridor of the monkey house, but alarmed zoo officials evacuated 75 persons from the building and called for the police riot squad.

At one time only a screen door separated the powerful animal from complete freedom. "If he had come out we would have had to have him killed," said Gene Hartz, assistant zoo director. "There was nothing to keep him in but a screen door and he could have taken it right along with him."

Hartz eventually felled Sinbad by firing a 200-milligram dose of tranquilizer into his shoulder. Five hours after the injection Sinbad was up and around.

"He'll have a pretty bad hangover but that's about all," Hartz said.

Sinbad's freedom began after a keeper momentarily left his cage door open while cleaning. The gorilla lumbered down a hallway into a kitchen where four workers were fixing lunch for animals in the monkey house.

"I never had an ape in my kitchen before," said Barney Gisuti, 54. "I looked twice. Then I went out the front door."

America Warns Viet Nam Reds

'Soft' Landing On Moon Slated

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Jet Propulsion Laboratory scientists, equipped with 4,316 closeup photographs of the moon, are thinking eagerly of the next major step in man's exploration of the lunar landscape.

It is the Surveyor, a soft-landing spacecraft with cameras that may function on the lunar surface for up to 30 days.

Two more Rangers are scheduled to be launched early next year. Plans call for them to have missions identical to picture-snapping Ranger 7.

Late next year the U.S. Space Agency will fire the first of seven Surveyors, which are three times heavier than the Rangers and have shock absorber legs.

The 806-pound Ranger 7 photographed craters as small as three feet in diameter before it crashed on the moon Friday.

The 2,300-pound Surveyor will be able to take pictures of objects the size of pinheads.

A shot in the arm for Surveyor's designers: A study of Ranger photographs indicates no major changes will be necessary in the planned model.

Surveyor's tripod legs should be able to survive a landing on terrain similar to Ranger's impact area — a crater-pocked plain in the Sea of Clouds.

Surveyor program manager W.E. Gibson says "we will use many of Ranger's technical people as they come off jobs such as testing and design, with the idea of cross-fertilization between the two projects."

"But we're already well along. We've been working on Surveyor since 1960 and we're quite proud of being able to anticipate some of Ranger's findings."

Ranger's pictures indicate the moon has a hard crust covered with a thin layer of dust.

Gibson believes Surveyor's pad-footed, 6-foot-long legs can settle down on such a surface with no damage to its scientific instruments.

Ranger was designed to crash into the moon and it did. Surveyor has a retro-rocket to break its descent and let it fall free to the surface from a height of no more than 10 or 15 feet.

Once it lands, its two television cameras should be able to swing full circle and up and down, giving earth scientists a "you are there" picture of the lunar landscape.

Surveyor also will have a claw on an extendable arm to pick up objects as far away as 10 feet and lift them up to the stereoscopic television eyes for three-dimensional scrutiny.

Man Cycles 3244 Miles At Age 80

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — It took Lyman Frain Sr. 86 days to pedal his bicycle from New York's Times Square to San Francisco's Golden Gate Bridge, and he was a little off schedule.

"I figured to make it a little faster," said the 80-year-old Philadelphian, "but I was bucking those west winds all the way."

The aging but hearty cyclist finished his trip Monday. He said he pedaled 3,244 miles on his 12-speed French bicycle, equipped with an extra-low gear for mountains.

"I feel pretty proud of what I've just done," he said. "I'm the first man my age to ever ride a bike from ocean to ocean. I just wanted to prove an old guy still had something left."

"Most men of 60 sit down in the old rocking chair and rock themselves into the grave," he said. "But they'd live 10 or 20 years longer if they'd take up bicycling. If it wasn't for this bicycle, I wouldn't be alive today."

Ship Attack Brings Protest

4 U.S. Warships Leave Hong Kong

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States warned Communist North Viet Nam today of "grave consequences" if any further unprovoked attacks are made against U.S. military forces.

State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey said the American protest was sent to the American Embassy in Saigon for "transmittal to the North Viet Nam regime through appropriate channels."

It is the first such U.S. communication directly to the Red regime, with which this country has no diplomatic ties.

Communication channels exist at the Saigon headquarters of the International Control Commission — composed of India, Canada and Poland — which has authority to supervise the 1954 Geneva agreement which partitioned Viet Nam.

The protest was a sternly worded follow-up to the orders Monday from President Johnson to beef up U.S. naval forces off Viet Nam and to destroy any forces attacking them. A U.S. destroyer fought off three PT boats in the Gulf of Tonkin Sunday.

In the wake of Johnson's orders, the Giant U.S. aircraft carrier Constellation and three other vessels sailed hurriedly from Hong Kong today.

A U.S. spokesman in Hong Kong said the four ships left according to schedule. He declined to give their destination or to say if the move was connected with Johnson's announcement that followed Sunday's attack on the U.S. destroyer Maddox by three North Vietnamese torpedo boats.

In advance of the departure of the four vessels, shore leave was canceled for officers and crew, and the ships apparently were placed on alert.

Besides the Constellation, they included the guided missile frigate Gridley, and the destroyers Preston and Fechteler.

Meanwhile, U.S. officials here were watching to see if the Sunday attack was an isolated incident or part of a hazardous new Communist strategy.

They said it was difficult to determine whether the sudden attack Sunday, which left one of the three Red boats burning, was an accident, a misjudgment or a deliberate provocation.

If similar Red assaults are launched, bolstered American naval units in the Gulf of Tonkin were prepared to carry out President Johnson's orders to destroy any attacking force.

The President announced to newsmen Monday his shoot-to-kill orders to the Navy. Previously orders had been for the naval units to defend themselves.

Relief from Heat Promised to Ohio

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Welcome relief was promised to much of Ohio today as somewhat cooler and less humid Canadian air pushed southward.

It was to continue warm, however, over the southern counties and scattered thundershowers were likely near the Ohio River.

Morning cloudiness was to give way to afternoon sunshine and winds were to be light today. Mostly fair and cooler weather with temperatures the lowest in several days was forecast for tonight. For Wednesday the outlook is for fair and a little cooler.

U.S. Newsmen Is Credited As Go-between in Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Soviet messages relayed by an American newsmen and a Soviet agent helped score a breakthrough in the darkest hours of the Cuban missile crisis, according to a former U.S. intelligence official.

Roger Hilsman, State Department intelligence chief at the time of the October 1962 confrontation, discloses in an article for the Aug. 25 issue of Look magazine that American Broadcasting Company correspondent John A. Scali was the American in the unofficial communications link.

The Russian was identified only as "Mr. X," a senior Soviet official who headed Soviet intelligence in the United States. Other sources said "Mr. X" since has left the Russian embassy here.

Hilsman, now teaching at Columbia University, reported: By Friday, Oct. 26, of the fateful week, the nuclear antagonists were eyeball-to-eyeball. President Kennedy had demanded a pullout of the Soviet missiles from Cuba and ordered a naval blockade. The Kremlin had publicly rejected Kennedy's proclamation. Some Soviet ships at sea had altered course, but the missile site building in Cuba was continuing full speed.

Mr. X, one of Scali's news contacts at the Soviet embassy, telephoned the correspondent asking for an immediate luncheon date. Over a luncheon table in a downtown restaurant he quickly got to the point.

The Russian asked Scali to find out at once from his friends in the State Department whether the U.S. government would be interested in a solution to the crisis in which the Soviets removed the missiles; they allowed U.N. inspectors to supervise the pullout; they pledged not to reintroduce the missiles and America publicly pledged not to invade Cuba.

Scali promptly reported this to Hilsman and Secretary of State Dean Rusk. Rusk said this was the first direct word that the Soviets might be thinking of a deal.

Rusk asked Scali to tell Mr. X that the U.S. government "sees real possibilities" in the proposition and to suggest that government representatives could work the matter out at the United Nations. "Time is very urgent," Rusk emphasized.

While Scali was relaying this word to Mr. X in a coffee shop that evening, a secret cable from Soviet Premier Khrushchev to Kennedy also indicating a willingness to negotiate was arriving at the White House.

The next day the Kremlin reversed its line and broadcast a Khrushchev note reneging on its proposals of the night before. Rusk asked Scali to see Mr. X again to find out what happened. The Soviet official had changed his tune, too. Scali accused him of a "stinking double cross" and said the United States was absolutely determined to get the missiles out of Cuba.

Again the Russian presumably sent back word to the Kremlin while Kennedy was making a formal public reply to the Friday proposition.

Sunday morning Khrushchev announced he had ordered the offensive arms withdrawn. The eventual settlement followed much of the formula set forth in the first Scali-Mr. X meeting.

That evening with the back of the crisis broken, Mr. X met Scali for the last time. "The information you supplied," he told the newsmen, "was very valuable to the chairman in helping him make up his mind quickly."

Scali was an Associated Press newsmen before joining ABC in 1962 prior to the missile showdown.

selves but not necessarily to destroy the attacker.

In Sunday's clash, the Navy disclosed Monday, the destroyer Maddox scored a direct hit on one of the PT boats with a five-inch gun. The Communist craft later was strafed by aircraft from the carrier U.S.S. Ticonderoga and left burning in the water. The Maddox was not damaged and no American sailors were hurt.

U.S. Defense and State Department officials believe the PT boat sank. A reconnaissance flight over the area, in international waters 30 miles off North Viet Nam, found no trace of the craft.

Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp, top U.S. military commander in the Pacific, said today, "The last time we saw it, it was in flames. I don't know if it sank but the chances are pretty good it did." He said there were no North Vietnamese casualties "that we know of, but there is no way of telling."

The State Department described the engagement as an "unprovoked attack" and said it was sending a protest to the Communist North Vietnamese government.

Department spokesmen rejected North Vietnamese charges that American planes and ships had attacked its territory in recent days.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara traveled to Capitol Hill to bring senate leaders up to date on the developments.

After the closed meeting Rusk was asked by newsmen if he still thought the attack was an isolated incident. He replied:

"That remains to be seen. But we are all deadly serious about this."

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, told newsmen both Rusk and McNamara seemed to think the clash was an isolated incident.

South Viet Nam's premier, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, declared in Saigon the United States should follow up the PT boat attack with firm steps against North Viet Nam.

The Navy said the Maddox opened fire on the patrol boats only after the Reds ignored three warning shots and continued sweeping in on their torpedo runs.

The PT boats launched three torpedoes and several 37-millimeter cannon shells at the Maddox but missed.

"The other side got a sting out of this" Rusk said. "If they do it again they'll get another sting."

Mrs. Susannah R. Wallen, 76, Ashville, died 9:45 p. m. yesterday in the Hurles Nursing Home Washington C. H.

She was born April 17, 1888, in Floyd County, Ky., the daughter of William and Judith Bradley Reffett. Her husband, William, preceded her in death.

New Officers Are Assigned

Two new patrolmen have assumed their duties with the Circleville Police Department.

The officers are Charles W. Schlegler Jr., Faye Ave., and Gerald R. Hixon, 116 Highland Ave. Both are married.

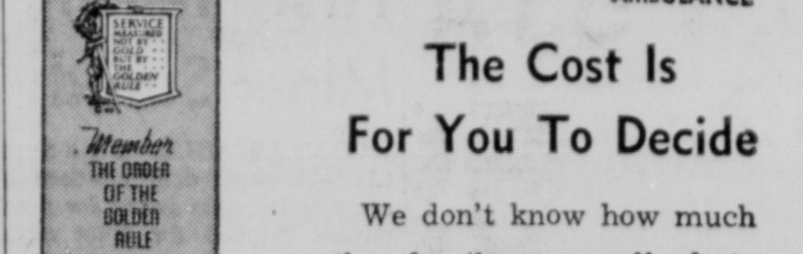

Hixon and Schlegler were assigned following their successful completion of municipal civil service examinations here. Police Chief Robert Temple said the additional two men have brought his department up to full strength.

Both men, natives of this community, are veterans of the U. S. Army. Schlegler served as a military policeman during his tour of duty and Hixon was in a communications unit.

Temple said both men will serve under a one-year probationary period. He said they will attend various police training schools conducted during the next few months.

Coed Spends Her Summer As Restaurant Inspector

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — There are 26 restaurants along the New York State Thruway and Patricia Ann (Trish) Lamb figures that she has visited each of them at least 10 times since June 11.

It's not that the 20-year-old Cornell University coed is so fond of eating. The visits are required by her unique summer-time job.

Trish is spending her summer as a $100-a-week roving restaurant inspector for the Thruway Authority. And she is the only woman on the agency's 12-member inspection staff.

Her duties include scrutinizing the coffee shops, dining rooms, cafeterias, kitchens, food, service, garbage buildings, women's rest rooms, parking lots and landscaping of the franchised service areas along the 559-mile toll road system.

The tools of her trade are a keen eye and a pad of inspection forms, on which she checks 17 items as satisfactory or unsatisfactory. She turns in the reports to Thruway headquarters each week.

Trish inspects the quality and quantity of the food, as well as the conditions under which it is prepared and served. This requires some taste tests, of course.

But the brunette, who stands six feet, also is keeping a close watch on her figure.

"I haven't gained an ounce," she said proudly.

But she won't reveal her weight. Trish goes on the road for five days at a time, stopping each night at motels near the Thruway. She figures she has clocked nearly 10,000 miles in her official Thruway car since starting work six weeks ago.

Trish spends anywhere from 10 minutes for a spot check to 4 hours for a full-dress inspection. Her visits usually are made known in advance and she tries to arrange them for peak business hours to see whether service-area employees do a good job when hurried.

Trish was selected for the job, partly because she is a woman and because of her special background.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Lamb, operated a restaurant for several years at Bolton Landing, on Lake George, and she had first-hand experience as a bus girl, waitress, hostess and assistant manager.

At Cornell, where she will be a senior in the fall, she is studying in the school of hotel administration.

Journalism Center To Be Opened

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — A man who rose from a $2 a-week clerk's job to become owner of 19 newspapers will see the fruition of a cherished idea Wednesday when President Johnson dedicates the first section of a $15-million communications center.

The newspaper magnate, Samuel I. Newhouse, says the complex will be "the world's largest and most-advanced study center in mass communications."

More than 20,000 persons, including Gov. and Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller and many of the nation's leading news executives, are to attend the dedication of a new five-story School of Journalism building on the Syracuse University campus.

The President also will receive an honorary degree of doctor of laws.

The journalism building is the first of a three-building communications complex to be erected on an eight-acre tract.

The entire $15-million cost will be paid by publisher-broadcaster Newhouse, personally and through the Newhouse Foundation.

Newhouse, 68, a former clerk in a law office, owns, in addition to his 19 newspapers, a number of radio and television stations and magazines in various parts of the country.

Negro Registration Climbing in South

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The number of Negroes registered to vote in the South has increased by 551,828 during the past two years, according to the Southern Regional Council.

The council said that 1,937,982 Negroes are registered to vote in 11 Southern states. Southern white registration is 13,600,000.

The council estimated that 38.6 per cent of southern Negroes who meet registration qualifications have been placed on the voting polls.

44 Ohio Pen Inmates Volunteer for Tests

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Warden Ernie L. Maxwell says 44 Ohio Penitentiary inmates volunteered to take part in a one-year heart research program in the first two days after a call for volunteers went out.

The research program, sponsored by Ohio State University's medical college, calls for investigation of mechanisms controlling output and blood pressure in healthy persons who have been injected with drugs which alter the function of the heart and lungs.

Manpower Quiz

Economists generally and government experts on fiscal and productivity matters in particular know a great deal about the current potential of the economy, but very little about the manpower responsible for it. They can give an amazingly detailed summary of the gross national product, or sense the economic pulse of the nation, but ask them for specifics about what jobs are available or what future trends in employment are likely to be, and they can only answer in generalities.

The fact is, more is known about the statistical output of the nation than about the men who make the statistics. If the objectives of a new study by the U. S. Department of Labor are met (and it doesn't degenerate into another boondoggle), this serious breakdown in knowledge may be overcome.

A three-pronged attack against manpower ignorance will start with an effort to catalog the number and type of job vacancies existing in industry. One of the most immediate results of such a listing should be to provide information to private and public placement services trying to bring together employers looking for workers and unemployed persons.

It is a wasteful aspect of society that many qualified workers remain unemployed because they are unaware of an existing vacancy. It is ridiculous for an aircraft technician in Waterbury, Conn. to remain out of work because he does not know that Wichita, Kans., is hiring persons with his skills by the dozens.

The second objective of the survey will be more complex but could have far-reaching effect. That is an attempt to project manpower needs in the years ahead. The third phase of the survey will attempt to draw a detailed biography of the unemployed.

Politicians, economists and industrial executives have been dismayed by the apparent inability of a wide range of remedial measures to cope with the unemployed in the United States. Compared to full-employment European economies, U. S. unemployment is high.

Perhaps getting the full story about who are unemployed, what they can do, where the vacancies are and what they are will reduce the problem.

Administration Dilemma

South Viet Nam Premier Nguyen Khanh is hammering on a new theme to carry the war into North Viet Nam. He and his government are doing this without the sanction of Washington.

So far, the Johnson administration has been opposed to an escalation of the war, but has not ruled out the possibility. It is inconceivable that Khanh would push to the north without U. S. support.

There is popular support among North Vietnamese refugees, students, some of the press and others. Khanh is playing to their wishes. This is what American officials have wanted him to do, but ironically, from Washington's point of view, he has chosen the wrong issue to gain popular support.

Vietnamese officials admit privately that Khan is trying to draw the United States into an escalation of the war. There is, of course, support in this country for his views. President Johnson is on a spot.

Khan's recent statements also indicate that were Washington to attempt Viet Nam solution through neutrality it would be met with opposition from the Vietnamese. All this does not mean the administration will alter its present course, which obviously is not making progress against the Viet Cong.

It's an embarrassing dilemma for the Johnson administration.

Free Trade Problem

By John Chamberlain

PORTLAND, Oregon — To speak in general terms, there is no good argument against free trade and the natural division of labor. But a look at this corner of the world proves that the subject of free trade can become dreadfully complicated. People in the Northwest would seem to have a perfectly valid argument that the U.S. government, in its pursuit of an ideal, is overlooking certain facts in an economic equation that make a mockery of what the text book idealists profess.

The big gripe here at the moment revolves about the log supply that sustains — or used to sustain — a big mill business in turning huge forest trees into board feet of lumber for manufacturing companies all over the United States. Currently the Japanese, who are in the midst of a great building boom, are bidding the price of Douglas fir, Port Orford cedar and Sitka spruce logs up to heights which the local mills regard as unconscionable. Under the classical concept of supply and demand, there would be no legitimate argument about the right of loggers to sell their raw product to the highest bidder. But the whole business on the western slope of the Cascade Mountains gets mixed up with the fundamentally socialist fact that the big supplier of logs is the U.S. government, which maintains the national forests.

The U.S. sells its logs to high bidders at public auction, which is a free proposition on its face. But the point to be observed here is that the U.S. Forest Service is itself subsidized by the U.S. taxpayer.

Before the Japanese came in with their high bids, there were enough logs to supply local mills without forcing them into buying at prices that could not be passed along to the consumer. But now all this has been changed. What bugs the local mill owners is that they, as American tax payers, are putting up a certain percentage of their tax money each year to support the sale of logs to foreigners who pay no U.S. taxes. Because of this angle, so the mill owners aver, the free trade argument loses most of its force. The U. S. taxpayer is subsidizing what could easily become a knock-out blow against good American jobs.

The argument is brought home if you look at the operations of a small mill on the Willamette River near Portland that cuts Sitka spruce into various shapes and sizes for a score of specialized manufacturers in various parts of the country.

The Kingsley Lumber Company is a supplier of long-fibred wood for individualized producers of water skis, sounding boards for pianos, guitar backs, airplane gliders, springboards, ladders, lightweight book cases, oars and paddles, overhang garage doors and keels, masts and spars for boats. Since a blight struck the walnut wood crop of the Midwest, Sitka spruce is just about the only timber available for manufacturers who need a long-fibred product.

Breaking the subject of Sitka spruce sales down into a tally of jobs affected throughout the U. S., it becomes apparent that if and when the Japanese corner the market for logs, the Chicago Musical Instrument Company, whose Gibson Division makes guitar backs in Kalamazoo, Michigan, could be despoiled of business by a guitar back maker in Canada, which does not permit its Sitka spruce logs to go into the international market unless there is a surplus of them above what Canadian manufacturers need. The Kingsley company provides wood to the Old Town Canoe Company of Maine for oars and paddles. Should the Old Town Company be unable to get Sitka spruce wood, 150 Maine "Downeasters" might lose their jobs because of Japanese buying in the Northwest. Similarly the fire ladder makers of Oshkosh, Wisconsin, could be bereft of work. And the Steinway Piano Company of New York, lacking sounding board wood, might have to yield their market to Japanese piano makers.

Thus the complications when the U.S. government maintains what is now being called "a tree farm for the benefit of foreign nations and their domestic economies." Free trade? The Northwest mill people think it is a laugh.

LAFF-A-DAY

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

"THE TIME has come," Dr. Nudnick told his patient, "to wheel you to the operating room. Don't fret about the outcome. I've lost my last eleven patients straight, and if there's anything at all in the law of averages, you'll pull through. Is there anything I can do for you before we start?"

"There certainly is," said the patient grimly. "You can help me on with my shirt and pants."

Franz Lehar's most famous operetta, "The Merry Widow," written way back in 1905, has made fortunes for many producers, and, indeed, is still revived successfully from time to time to this very day. Yet Lehar himself never received one cent of royalties from the countless performances here. Lehar's European lawyers neglected to protect the American rights, probably figuring they weren't worth the trouble and expense involved. For years Lehar sought some kind of restitution—but failed. Justifiably outraged, he swore he never would visit America—and he never did.

An eight-year-old admirer of Steve Allen dedicated a poem to him recently—and this is how it went:

Roses are red
Violets are blue
You think this will rhyme
But it won't.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Should all patients be told the whole truth about the seriousness of their illness?

The medical, moral, spiritual and psychological values of each individual case must be carefully studied and balanced with other considerations before such a decision can be made. There is no one answer that can be universally applied to best fulfill the needs of all patients.

The guiding light in the decision to tell the patient all the facts about his illness must be: "Will it be to the patient's greatest advantage?"

If the truth is necessary to permit the patient to plan and arrange the future and destiny of his business and family, this must be a vital factor in the doctor's decision.

The total psychological make-up of the patient, varying from the highly tense and emotionally unstable to the stoic and stalwart, effects the doctor's decision.

The family's attitude and intimate knowledge of the patient's needs must also enter into the final judgment.

Some patients present the outward appearance of strength and stability when they say, "Doctor, tell me the truth." But these very same patients can go into a tailspin of emotional distress when they are actually faced with the truth of their medical condition.

Others, the frail and the sensitive, draw surprisingly great comfort and courage from the knowledge of the known rather than the fear of the unknown.

Most doctors are the bulwark of emotional support for their patients.

Most physicians, especially that vast group in the general practice of medicine, know their patients and the patients' families intimately. They are therefore in an excellent position to choose the most humane approach for the sustenance of the patient and his family.

The family, the doctor and the spiritual advisor must join forces in arriving at the decision that will bring the greatest inner peace to the patient.

When patients refuse to come face-to-face with their problems, their fears and anxieties steadily mount until they are overwhelmed by them.

Fear can be considered as a disease itself, a disease which becomes worse with neglect.

There are no wonder drugs that can cure the disease of fear, its symptoms, and its ravages.

There is a cure. That cure lies in the recognition of the need for psychological guidance and treatment.

When patients come face-to-face with their fears and openly expose them, they frequently find them to be phantoms of unreality. The mature adult confronts his problems and does not allow himself to be overwhelmed by the destructive forces of anxiety and fear.

Famed Actor, 53, Feels Good

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — "I've seen them all come and go, and I'm still hanging around," cheerfully remarked Spangler Arlington Brugh, the famous movie star, who will be 53 Wednesday.

"I feel pretty good about life. There's nothing much that bugs me. I've always successfully avoided anything that bored me too much.

"I've always just been a guy who tried to keep my nose clean, do my job and avoid conflict as much as possible. I've tried to do things that would make me happy and not hurt others.

"The only thing I worry about is what's my next picture going to be."

Tanned, blue-eyed and still strikingly handsome, Spangler Arlington Brugh can look back on a career that has few if any parallels in filmdom.

As a boy back in Beatrice, Neb., he wanted to be a doctor like his father. As a youth he lugged a battered cello to California and hoped to become a musician.

But a talent scout saw him in a college play and he went to work for MGM in 1934 at $35 a week. He stayed there 26 years, the longest period any top star has ever worked for any one studio.

And Spangler Arlington Brugh did become a top star.

He was mobbed by crowds of up to 5,000 people. A newsmagazine once described him as "the most admired matinee idol since the late Rudolph Valentino."

One poll in 1936 rated him as more popular than Clark Gable. His weekly salary climbed that year to $3,000, his weekly fan mail to 7,000 letters.

A list of the leading ladies he played opposite makes a roll call of Hollywood's most beautiful stars, past and present.

In 30 years Spangler Arlington Brugh earned millions of dollars, appeared in nearly 70 films and starred in a television series.

During all that time he avoided

public scandals, was well-liked by his fellow workers — and never won an Academy Award. Today he and his second wife, actress Ursula Thiess, live quietly with their two young children on a 113-acre farm near Beverly Hills where they are raising 17 quarter horses, 52 hens and two roosters.

"We're not trying to corner the poultry market," he said. "We do like outdoor life, and we're not very socially inclined."

Looking back across the years, he said he felt most grateful to two people: MGM studio boss Louis B. Mayer who built him into a star, and to his former wife, Barbara Stanwyck. "She had been in the theater all her life. She knew all the pitfalls an actor could run into in Hollywood," he said.

At 53, Spangler Arlington Brugh has a special reason for feeling grateful to studio tycoon Mayer.

"It was he who changed my name to Robert Taylor," he said.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — A building in savings is reported this summer. This reverses the trend earlier in the year. And it adds a new chapter, however brief it may prove to be, to the business and government's hardy whodunit: What will the American consumer do with his money?

Retail sales are still rising. The American consumer isn't pinching pennies yet. The total of personal incomes keeps growing and collectively he has more to spend. So he is spending a little more. Also, federal income tax rates are lower and he has more to spend. So he's spending a little more of that.

But in the first weeks after the tax cut, his extra dollars seemed to be going largely toward trimming his debt load. This is a kind of savings in itself. Charge accounts and other forms of personal short-term debt shrunk a bit. And while the consumer was paying his bills, his savings accounts in various institutions either were not growing at all or at a noticeably reduced rate.

Then sales of many big-ticket items, like autos and household appliances, were healthier than in recent years. The taking on of new installment credit to finance such sales was noted.

From this, government and some corporate economists decided that the tax cut was achieving its avowed purpose, spurring economic growth. People were buying, so industry could produce, and expand to produce more.

But now the savings institutions report that the savings rate is increasing again — and this time without the stimulus of any new increase in interest rates on savings. Having settled their more nagging bills, some Americans apparently are putting away more of their increased take-home pay.

That still leaves money enough in the country to raise the total of retail sales. And the outlook for fall business is good, most merchants agree.

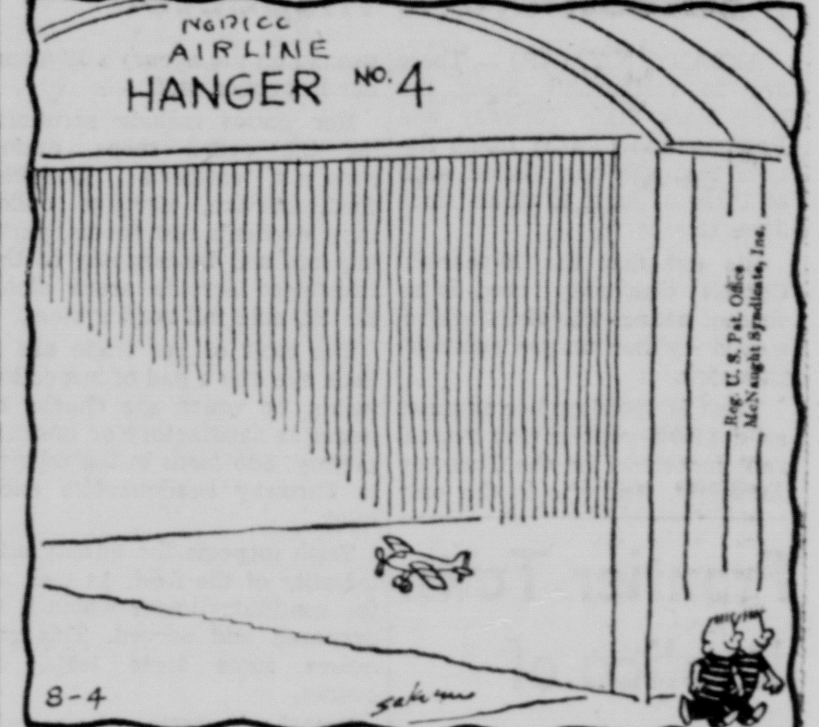

Manufacturers have been more inspired by the tax cuts and depreciation allowances. Their spending for expansion and modernization increases with each new report. And most of them have the sales and profits gains to back up their optimism for the future.

Savings by consumers, so long as total spending isn't cut, is no drag in itself on the economy.

The funds pouring into the institutions are available for the financing of the growth which industry is starting or planning.

Manpower Quiz

Economists generally and government experts on fiscal and productivity matters in particular know a great deal about the current potential of the economy, but very little about the manpower responsible for it. They can give an amazingly detailed summary of the gross national product, or sense the economic pulse of the nation, but ask them for specifics about what jobs are available or what future trends in employment are likely to be, and they can only answer in generalities.

The fact is, more is known about the statistical output of the nation than about the men who make the statistics. If the objectives of a new study by the U. S. Department of Labor are met (and it doesn't degenerate into another boondoggle), this serious breakdown in knowledge may be overcome.

A three-pronged attack against manpower ignorance will start with an effort to catalog the number and type of job vacancies existing in industry. One of the most immediate results of such a listing should be to provide information to private and public placement services trying to bring together employers looking for workers and unemployed persons.

It is a wasteful aspect of society that many qualified workers remain unemployed because they are unaware of an existing vacancy. It is ridiculous for an aircraft technician in Waterbury, Conn. to remain out of work because he does not know that Wichita, Kans., is hiring persons with his skills by the dozens.

The second objective of the survey will be more complex but could have far-reaching effect. That is an attempt to project manpower needs in the years ahead. The third phase of the survey will attempt to draw a detailed biography of the unemployed.

Politicians, economists and industrial executives have been dismayed by the apparent inability of a wide range of remedial measures to cope with the unemployed in the United States. Compared to full-employment European economies, U. S. unemployment is high.

Perhaps getting the full story about who are unemployed, what they can do, where the vacancies are and what they are will reduce the problem.

Administration Dilemma

South Viet Nam Premier Nguyen Khanh is hammering on a new theme to carry the war into North Viet Nam. He and his government are doing this without the sanction of Washington.

So far, the Johnson administration has been opposed to an escalation of the war, but has not ruled out the possibility. It is inconceivable that Khanh would push to the north without U. S. support.

There is popular support among North Vietnamese refugees, students, some of the press and others. Khanh is playing to their wishes. This is what American officials have wanted him to do, but ironically, from Washington's point of view, he has chosen the wrong issue to gain popular support.

Vietnamese officials admit privately that Khan is trying to draw the United States into an escalation of the war. There is, of course, support in this country for his views. President Johnson is on a spot.

Khan's recent statements also indicate that were Washington to attempt Viet Nam solution through neutrality it would be met with opposition from the Vietnamese. All this does not mean the administration will alter its present course, which obviously is not making progress against the Viet Cong.

It's an embarrassing dilemma for the Johnson administration.

Free Trade Problem

By John Chamberlain

PORTLAND, Oregon — To speak in general terms, there is no good argument against free trade and the natural division of labor. But a look at this corner of the world proves that the subject of free trade can become dreadfully complicated. People in the Northwest would seem to have a perfectly valid argument that the U. S. government, in its pursuit of an ideal, is overlooking certain facts in an economic equation that make a mockery of what the text book idealists profess.

The big gripe here at the moment revolves about the log supply that sustains — or used to sustain — a big mill business in turning huge forest trees into board feet of lumber for manufacturing companies all over the United States. Currently the Japanese, who are in the midst of a great building boom, are bidding the price of Douglas fir, Port Orford cedar and Sitka spruce logs up to heights which the local mills regard as unconscionable. Under the classical concept of supply and demand, there would be no legitimate argument about the right of loggers to sell their raw product to the highest bidder. But the whole business on the western slope of the Cascade Mountains gets mixed up with the fundamentally socialist fact that the big supplier of logs is the U. S. government, which maintains the national forests.

The U. S. sells its logs to high bidders at public auction, which is a free proposition on its face. But the point to be observed here is that the U. S. Forest Service is itself subsidized by the U. S. taxpayer.

Before the Japanese came in with their high bids, there were enough logs to supply local mills without forcing them into buying at prices that could not be passed along to the consumer. But now all this has been changed. What bugs the local mill owners is that they, as American tax payers, are putting up a certain percentage of their tax money each year to support the sale of logs to foreigners who pay no U. S. taxes. Because of this angle, so the mill owners aver, the free trade argument loses most of its force. The U. S. taxpayer is subsidizing what could easily become a knock-out blow against good American jobs.

The argument is brought home if you look at the operations of a small mill on the Willamette River near Portland that cuts Sitka spruce into various shapes and sizes for a score of specialized manufacturers in various parts of the country.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

"THE TIME has come," Dr. Nudnick told his patient, "to wheel you to the operating room. Don't fret about the outcome. I've lost my last eleven patients straight, and if there's anything at all in the law of averages, you'll pull through. Is there anything I can do for you before we start?"

"There certainly is," said the patient grimly. "You can help me out with my shirt and pants."

Franz Lehár's most famous operetta, "The Merry Widow," written way back in 1905, has made fortunes for many producers, and, indeed, is still revived successfully from time to time to this very day. Yet Lehár himself never received one cent of royalties for the countless performances here. Lehár's European lawyers neglected to protect the American rights, probably figuring they weren't worth the trouble and expense involved. For years Lehár sought some kind of restitution—but failed. Justifiably outraged, he swore he never would visit America—and he never did.

An eight-year-old admirer of Steve Allen dedicated a poem to him recently—and this is how it went:

Roses are red
Violets are blue
You think this will rhyme
But it won't.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Should all patients be told the whole truth about the seriousness of their illness?

The medical, moral, spiritual and psychological values of each individual case must be carefully studied and balanced with other considerations before such a decision can be made.

There is no one answer that can be universally applied to best fulfill the needs of all patients.

The guiding light in the decision to tell the patient all the facts about his illness must be: "Will it be to the patient's greatest advantage?"

If the truth is necessary to permit the patient to plan and arrange the future and destiny of his business and family, this must be a vital factor in the doctor's decision.

The total psychological makeup of the patient, varying from the highly tense and emotionally unstable to the stoic and stalwart, effects the doctor's decision.

The family's attitude and intimate knowledge of the patient's needs must also enter into the final judgment.

Some patients present the outward appearance of strength and stability when they say, "Doctor, tell me the truth." But these very same patients can go into a tailspin of emotional distress when they are actually faced with the truth of their medical condition.

Others, the frail and the sensitive, draw surprisingly great comfort and courage from the knowledge of the known rather than the fear of the unknown.

Most doctors are the bulwark of emotional support for their patients.

Most physicians, especially that vast group in the general practice of medicine, know their patients and the patients' families intimately. They are therefore in an excellent position to choose the most humane approach for the sustenance of the patient and his family.

The family, the doctor and the spiritual advisor must join forces in arriving at the decision that will bring the greatest inner peace to the patient.

When patients refuse to come face-to-face with their problems, their fears and anxieties steadily mount until they are overwhelmed by them.

Fear can be considered as a disease itself, a disease which becomes worse with neglect.

There are no wonder drugs that can cure the disease of fear, its symptoms, and its ravages.

There is a cure. That cure lies in the recognition of the need for psychological guidance and treatment.

When patients come face-to-face with their fears and openly expose them, they frequently find them to be phantoms of unreality. The mature adult confronts his problems and does not allow himself to be overwhelmed by the destructive forces of anxiety and fear.

Famed Actor, 53, Feels Good

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — "I've seen them all come and go, and I'm still hanging around," cheerfully remarked Spangler Arlington Brugh, the famous movie star, who will be 53 Wednesday.

"I feel pretty good about life. There's nothing much that bugs me. I've always successfully avoided anything that bored me too much."

"I've always just been a guy who tried to keep my nose clean, do my job and avoid conflict as much as possible. I've tried to do things that would make me happy and not hurt others."

"The only thing I worry about is what's my next picture going to be."

Tanned, blue-eyed and still strikingly handsome, Spangler Arlington Brugh can look back on a career that has few if any parallels in filmdom.

As a boy back in Beatrice, Neb., he wanted to be a doctor like his father. As a youth he lugged a battered cello to California and hoped to become a musician.

But a talent scout saw him in a college play and he went to work for MGM in 1934 at $35 a week. He stayed there 26 years, the longest period any top star has ever worked for any one studio.

And Spangler Arlington Brugh did become a top star.

He was mobbed by crowds of up to 5,000 people. A newsmagazine once described him as "the most admired matinee idol since the late Rudolph Valentino."

One poll in 1936 rated him as more popular than Clark Gable. His weekly salary climbed that year to $3,000, his weekly fan mail to 7,000 letters.

A list of the leading ladies he played opposite makes a roll call of Hollywood's most beautiful stars, past and present.

In 30 years Spangler Arlington Brugh earned millions of dollars, appeared in nearly 70 films and starred in a television series.

During all that time he avoided

public scandals, was well-liked by his fellow workers — and never won an Academy Award. Today he and his second wife, actress Ursula Thiess, live quietly with their two young children on a 113-acre farm near Beverly Hills where they are raising 17 quarter horses, 52 hens and two roosters.

"We're not trying to corner the poultry market," he said. "We do like outdoor life, and we're not very socially inclined."

Looking back across the years, he said he felt most grateful to two people: MGM studio boss Louis B. Mayer who built him into a star, and to his former wife, Barbara Stanwyck. "She had been in the theater all her life. She knew all the pitfalls an actor could run into in Hollywood," he said.

At 53, Spangler Arlington Brugh has a special reason for feeling grateful to studio tycoon Mayer.

"It was he who changed my name to Robert Taylor," he said.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — A buildup in savings is reported this summer. This reverses the trend earlier in the year. And it adds a new chapter, however brief it may prove to be, to the business and government's hardy whodunit: What will the American consumer do with his money?

Retail sales are still rising. The American consumer isn't pinching pennies yet. The total of personal incomes keeps growing and collectively he has more to spend. So he is spending a little more. Also, federal income tax rates are lower and he has more to spend. So he's spending a little more of that.

But in the first weeks after the tax cut, his extra dollars seemed to be going largely toward trimming his debt load. This is a kind of savings in itself. Charge accounts and other forms of personal short-term debt shrunk a bit. And while the consumer was paying his bills, his savings accounts in various institutions either were not growing at all or at a noticeably reduced rate.

Then sales of many big-ticket items, like autos and household appliances, were healthier than in recent years. The taking on of new installment credit to finance such sales was noted. From this, government and some corporate economists decided that the tax cut was achieving its avowed purpose, spurring economic growth. People were buying, so industry could produce, and expand to produce more.

But now the savings institutions report that the savings rate is increasing again — and this time without the stimulus of any new increase in interest rates on savings. Having settled their more nagging bills, some Americans apparently are putting away more of their increased take-home pay.

That still leaves money enough in the country to raise the total of retail sales. And the outlook for fall business is good, most merchants agree.

Manufacturers have been more inspired by the tax cuts and depreciation allowances. Their spending for expansion and modernization increases with each new report. And most of them have the sales and profits gains to back up their optimism for the future.

Savings by consumers, so long as total spending isn't cut, is no drag in itself on the economy.

The funds pouring into the institutions are available for the financing of the growth which industry is starting or planning.

Dear Abby: Outside Help Is Needed

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What do you do with a grandmother who believes that the people on television can see and hear her? We have tried to explain to her that they can't—that it's only a talking picture, but it doesn't do any good. She gets all dolled up to watch television every day because she says she would hate to have Art Linkletter see her looking a fright. How can we convince her she's wrong?

SUE AND CINDY
DEAR GIRLS: Why try? Besides, ask Art Linkletter. I'll bet he thinks she looks real nice!

DEAR ABBY: A few months ago my husband and my best friend came to me and confessed that they had had an affair, but it was all over. They said they told me in order to cleanse their consciences. The woman is also married and the four of us had been friendly for years. As I look back I now realize that she cultivated my friendship so she could get next to my husband. She even used the children. I told my husband that I would forgive him, and I have really tried, Abby, but the hurt is so deep I don't think I'll ever get over it. I now refuse to be in this woman's company, but my husband says there is no reason why we can't all be friends. I get sick when I see her car on the street. Was I wrong to end our friendship or not?

WRONGED
DEAR WRONGED: You were right to end the friendship, and your husband is lucky you didn't choose to end the marriage as well. Stick to your guns!

DEAR ABBY: My bridge club (two tables) met at my house last week. One of the members brought along an out-of-town guest who was visiting her. This guest presented me with a one-pound box of candy. I thanked her for it, and then I set it on the piano. I intentionally did not open the box because the candy would have been eaten up in no time by the other women. The next day one of the women called me up and told me that several of the members had severely criticized me for not opening the candy, and offering it to the ladies. Did I commit a social error, or not?

NOT SURE
DEAR NOT: Unless the woman who brought the candy indicated that it was for the "club," you had a right to assume it was for you alone. You committed no social error by not opening the candy, but since you didn't intend to serve it, you'd have been wise to put it out of sight.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "THE WOMAN WHO WROTE A VOL UME": Of course I've heard only YOUR side of it, but if only half of what you wrote is true, you are married to the most selfish, egotistical hypocrite who ever drew a breath. I rarely say a case is hopeless, but it would take a miracle to straighten him out.

Shastri Has Own Brand Of Humor

NEW DELHI (AP) — Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri is a somewhat shy unassuming man but he has a strong sense of humor.

Not long ago, when Shastri was a cabinet minister, the door-bell rang at his home. Shastri opened the door.

"Tell the minister the stenographers he ordered have come," a visitor said somewhat curtly.

"Wait a moment, please," said Shastri and he disappeared into the house without revealing his identity.

Chuckling at his practical joke, he then slipped behind his desk while a servant ushered in the visitors.

Valley 4-H club members will be attending the Pickaway Fair this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Luckhart and family were the Sunday dinner guests of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bry and family of Washington C. H.

Mr. and Mrs. David Luckhart spent Saturday and Sunday in Columbus attending a horse show.

Pickaway Grange

SCIOTO VALLEY

Members were reminded they will be working the gates at the Pickaway County Fair Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

On Thursday of Fair week, the granges are scheduled to work in the food booth. Scioto Grange will also have an exhibit booth.

A letter from Will W. Fischer, a grange member who is at Lutheran Senior City, was read at the July 28 meeting.

The annual inspection will be Aug. 25, preceded by a pot luck dinner at 6:30 p. m. it was announced. The Pamona Grange will meet Aug. 14 in the 4-H and Grange building.

The program, included a song, "America the Beautiful"; a poem, "Highway Safety" read by Lawrence Hoover, and a discussion on highway safety. Readings were "Accidents Are Involved Affairs," by Helen Dowler "Super Americans Seen on TV," by Clara Creager and "A Rich Farmer" by Taylor Lutz.

The thought for the day was: "nobody grows old by merely living a number of years. People grow old by deserting their ideals. Years may wrinkle the skin, but to give up interests wrinkles the soul."

The July refreshment committee with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fisher, Leona Berger and Harold Fisher served sandwiches, potato chips and ice tea.

Shastri Has Own Brand Of Humor

NEW DELHI (AP) — Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri is a somewhat shy unassuming man but he has a strong sense of humor.

Not long ago, when Shastri was a cabinet minister, the doorbell rang at his home. Shastri opened the door.

"Tell the minister the stenographers he ordered have come," a visitor said somewhat curtly.

"Wait a moment, please," said Shastri and he disappeared into the house without revealing his identity.

Chuckling at his practical joke, he then slipped behind his desk while a servant ushered in the visitors.

SCIOTO VALLEY

Members were reminded they will be working the gates at the Pickaway County Fair Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

On Thursday of Fair week, the granges are scheduled to work in the food booth. Scioto Grange will also have an exhibit booth.

A letter from Will W. Fischer, a grange member who is at Lutheran Senior City, was read at the July 28 meeting.

The annual inspection will be Aug. 25, preceded by a pot luck dinner at 6:30 p. m. it was announced. The Pamona Grange will meet Aug. 14 in the 4-H and Grange building.

The program, included a song, "America the Beautiful"; a poem, "Highway Safety" read by Lawrence Hoover, and a discussion on highway safety. Readings were "Accidents Are Involved Affairs," by Helen Dowler "Super Americans Seen on TV," by Clara Creager and "A Rich Farmer" by Taylor Lutz.

The thought for the day was: "nobody grows old by merely living a number of years. People grow old by deserting their ideals. Years may wrinkle the skin, but to give up interests wrinkles the soul."

The July refreshment committee with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fisher, Leona Berger and Harold Fisher served sandwiches, potato chips and ice tea.

3 States Slate Primaries; LBJ Backer Faces Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three states hold primary elections today, with Rep. Richard Bollins, a strong supporter of the Johnson administration on the powerful House Rules Committee, facing a stiff fight in Missouri.

Bollins' battle and primary contests for gubernatorial nominations in Missouri and Kansas hold the limelight.

Idaho also has a primary, with Democratic incumbent Reps. Ralph Harding and Compton I. White unopposed for renomination.

Bollins, a liberal who for many years was the late Speaker Sam Rayburn's spokesman on the Rules Committee, is opposed by a conservative, Judge Hunter Phillips of the Jackson County Court. The district is in Kansas City.

Phillips has called Bolling "wild-eyed and left-wing in character." Former President Harry S. Truman has endorsed Bolling, and a close friend of Truman's, Tom L. Evans, is the congressman's campaign manager. Bolling has solid support from organized labor.

Phillips is backed by five splinter groups of the old Kansas City Democratic machine of Tom Pendergast.

Missouri Lt. Gov. Hilary A. Bush and Secretary of State Warren E. Hearnes head a five-man field seeking the Democratic nomination for governor. Ethan Shepley of St. Louis and William B. Ewald of Kirkwood are among four Republican hopefuls.

Retiring Gov. John M. Dalton is ineligible for re-election.

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., has two little-known opponents, while Republicans are picking between Jean Paul Bradshaw and Morris D. Duncan.

Two Republican congressmen are unopposed for renomination, while seven incumbent Democrats have opposition.

In Kansas, eight Republicans are running for governor, including Rep. William H. Avery, who resigned as a member of the House Rules Committee. Other GOP hopefuls include McDill Boyd, a close runnerup in 1960; Lt. Gov. Harold Chase; Atty. Gen. William M. Ferguson, and State Senate President Paul Wusch.

Former State Treasurer George Hart and Corporation Commissioner Harry G. Wiles are among six Democratic candidates.

Two-term Republican Gov. John Anderson is not seeking reelection.

In House contests in Kansas, four men are trying for the GOP nomination to succeed Avery, while Rep. Garner Shriver has one Republican primary opponent. The other three Republican incumbents are unopposed.

U.S. Judge In Toledo Is Retiring

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — "I grew up with the law," U. S. District Court Judge Frank J. Kloebe once said. "And ever since I remember, I wanted to be an attorney, a congressman and a federal judge."

Judge Kloebe reached those goals in that order; the last one 27 years ago.

The 74-year-old jurist now is retiring from the Northern Ohio bench on which he has sat for so long.

His retirement was announced Monday by the White House, leaving an opening to be filled by President Johnson in the district's western division.

It is expected that Kloebe's replacement will be a lawyer or judge from the Toledo area, although the district is based in the Federal Building in Cleveland.

Judge Kloebe, who makes his home here, was congratulated by President Johnson for his many years of public service. The President cited him particularly for "the distinguished service you have rendered as a member of the judiciary." The late President Franklin D. Roosevelt appointed him to the federal bench in 1937.

Man Slays Wife, Then Kills Himself

CINCINNATI (AP)—A Cincinnati woman was shot to death near her home here early today after a domestic quarrel and slaying, then went to his brother's home near Clarksville in Clinton County and fatally wounded himself.

Police said they were informed the man, Paul E. Hobbs, 36, died while being brought here to a hospital. A flat tire had halted the ambulance in suburban Norwood.

The slain woman was Mrs. Darlene Hobbs, 44, her body was found in a grassy area near her home and only a few feet from an outdoor telephone booth.

Police theorized she had been trying to get to the telephone booth to call for help.

David Galbraath, her son by a previous marriage, said his mother and stepfather had been quarreling and that Hobbs then went to a garden back of the house and shot himself in the head.

Clinton County Sheriff Donald Osborn said Hobbs showed up at the home of his brother, Eugene, a short time after the Cincinnati shooting and told the brother he had killed his wife and was planning suicide.

He had a .22 caliber rifle with him.

Sheriff Osborn said the two brothers talked for about a half hour and that Paul Hobbs then went to a garden back of the house and shot himself in the head.

Osborn said he was told Paul Hobbs and his wife had been separated but were reconciled about two months ago.

There are more restaurants, more shows, new tours, including to Norfolk, and added recreational activities. Room accommodations have increased to 3,652 rooms. A 12-story, 330-unit motor hotel is scheduled to open next year.

About $20 million may be needed to meet increased tourism by 1975, when the tourist load is expected to triple the present number of visitors.

Pickle-Packer Has Liking for Green Color

VANCOUVER (AP) — Harold H. Elliott, 74, is a pickle-packer turned picture-painter.

Three of Elliott's paintings will hang in the Vancouver Art Gallery this summer before going on a Canadian tour with 37 other paintings by 19 British Columbia artists.

"I ran a pickle-manufacturing business for 10 years," he says. "I've also been a schoolteacher, a homesteader, a miner and a real estate man."

He began painting 16 years ago and has since completed 5,000 canvasses.

"I think my pictures out for a long time," Elliott says. "Then I get them down on paper fast. I'm a very rapid painter."

"I'm not a realistic painter. My paintings are imagination or recollections. I try to tell a story."

The three Elliott paintings on display show a strong preference for shades of green.

Green is a good color, says the former pickle-packer.

Another U2 Incident Cited

Plane over Soviet During Cuba Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — An American U2 plane strayed over the Soviet Union during the height of the Cuban missile confrontation and caused "a crisis within the crisis," according to former State Department intelligence chief Roger Hilsman.

Hilsman, one of the Kennedy Administration insiders during the October 1962 episode discloses the details in an article for the Aug. 25 issue of Look magazine.

The downing of a high-flying U2 reconnaissance plane deep inside Soviet territory had in itself caused a crisis in 1960. The United States discontinued the flights over the Soviet Union after that but has continued to use the planes in other areas.

Hilsman wrote that during crucial hours of the Cuban affair:

"An American U2, on a routine air-sampling mission between Alaska and the North Pole had picked the wrong star for its return flight, and was at that moment over the Soviet Union.

"Soviet fighter planes had scrambled. The U2 pilot had gone on the air — in the clear — to call for help. American fighters in Alaska had also scrambled and were attempting to rendezvous with the U2 to escort it home."

Hilsman said that when he got the news he ran upstairs in the White House to tell President Kennedy.

"The implications were obvious and horrendous," he said. "The Soviets might well regard this U2 flight as a last-minute intelligence reconnaissance in preparation for nuclear war."

Kennedy, reported Hilsman, "gave a short laugh that broke the tension. 'There is always some so-and-so,' he said, 'who doesn't get the word.'"

Eventually, wrote Hilsman, the U2 made it back to base safely.

Flunked Out

BENTON, Ky. (AP) — When work started on Kentucky Dam, the Tennessee Valley Authority devised a series of questions to pick the best workmen for the project.

One applicant was thrown for a loss by the very first question: "What does hydrodynamics mean?"

The man thought for awhile then wrote this answer: "It means I don't get no job."

FORMER FOLLIES BEAUTY RETURNING TO STAGE—Bernice Dalton, a former Ziegfeld Follies beauty who left show business more than 30 years ago to marry, is returning to show biz in the role of a lady legislator in a Hollywood episode of "Slattery's People." The show is a new Bing Crosby Productions' political TV series starting this fall. She is talking to the series' star, Richard Crenna.

Historian Urges Fight To Bare Harding Letters

NEW YORK (AP) — A renowned historian says irreparable harm will come to the Ohio Historical Society if it fails to try to prevent suppression of President Warren G. Harding's love letters to a married woman.

Allan Nevins, a former professor of history at Columbia University and a past president of the American Historical Association, says the society "will do itself and the State of Ohio irreparable harm if it fails to use all possible efforts to prevent any disposition of any Harding papers which results in the destruction of a single page."

Nevins has been asked by the American Heritage Co. to form a committee to "assist and advise" in the company's controversy over Harding's love letters to Mrs. James Phillips, wife of a Marion, Ohio, department store owner.

Harding's heirs named the company a defendant last week in a $1-million law suit. The heirs seek to suppress the recently discovered letters.

Mrs. Phillips died in 1960. The letters were discovered in a shoebox in her house. Also named in the suit are Kenneth W. Duckett, curator of manuscripts at the Ohio Historical Society, which has turned the letters over to Marion County Probate Court; Francis Russell, a writer who came upon the letters while preparing a book on Harding; and his book publisher, McGraw-Hill Publishing Co.

George Harding III, the president's nephew, filed the suit. American Heritage said it has placed in a vault in a New York bank photographic copies of the love letters. The company said the copies, in a sealed package, will remain in the vault pending a court decision.

Castro Said Stirring Up U.S. Negroes

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Former Cuban President Manuel Urrutia has accused Fidel Castro of having a hand in racial violence in the United States.

Urrutia, Castro's first chief executive, said Monday in an interview that the Cuban dictator "has from the start of his rule shown an interest in stirring up American Negroes."

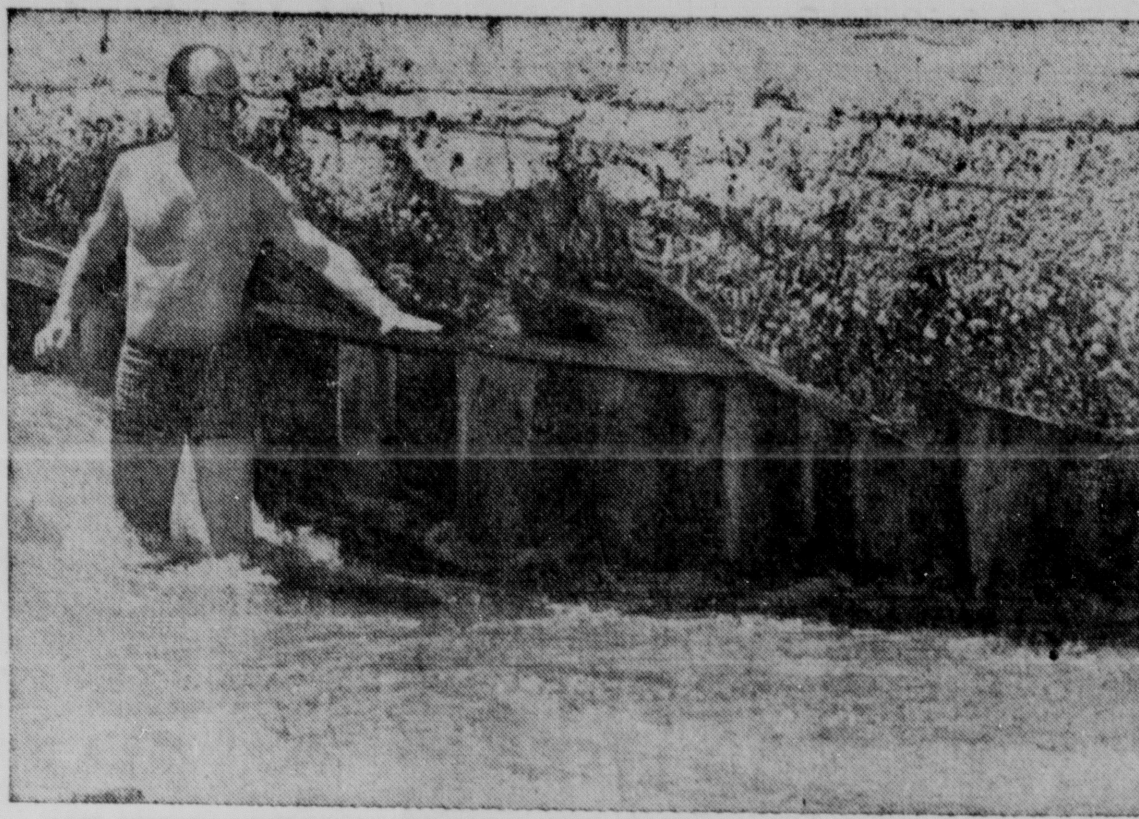

"Now he maintains a regular English language broadcast from Havana designed to incite American Negroes to rebellion," he said.

Urrutia referred to "Radio Free Dixie," a broadcast by Robert Williams, Negro from Monroe, N.C., who fled to Cuba after being indicted on a kidnapping charge stemming from racial trouble.

Urrutia, who broke with Castro in 1960, announced plans to form a new anti-Castro party, to be called "Fighting Democratic Unity."

LAKE MICHIGAN DROPPING—Don Bruno, a school teacher, indicates where the Lake Michigan water level was on Chicago's north side last year, and you can see where it is now. The sinking Great Lakes water level is causing millions in losses for ore boats alone, because they cannot carry as much cargo. Water experts and Army Engineers Corps discussed correction possibilities at a Michigan State University meeting recently.

Concerts Set By 4-H Band

The Pickaway County 4-H Band which made its first appearance during the county fair as a part of the opening ceremonies last night will give concerts before and during the harness races at the grandstand on Tuesday and Wednesday beginning 3:30 p. m.

The band will also appear as a part of the grandstand Band Festival program on Wednesday evening. On Friday afternoon the band will give a concert at the 4-H Grange Building following the Home Economics Demonstrations.

Organized less than a year ago, the band is made of 4-H members from every county school district. Advisers for the group are Mrs. Ralph Dunkel, Mrs. Sterling Poling, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schein and Billy Rihl. Drexel Poling is the director.

The 4-H band is also scheduled for two concerts at the Ohio State Fair on Aug. 30.

Another U2 Incident Cited

Plane over Soviet During Cuba Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — An American U2 plane strayed over the Soviet Union during the height of the Cuban missile confrontation and caused "a crisis within the crisis," according to former State Department intelligence chief Roger Hilsman.

Hilsman, one of the Kennedy Administration insiders during the October 1962 episode discloses the details in an article for the Aug. 25 issue of Look magazine.

The downing of a high-flying U2 reconnaissance plane deep inside Soviet territory had in itself caused a crisis in 1960. The United States discontinued the flights over the Soviet Union after that but has continued to use the planes in other areas.

Hilsman wrote that during crucial hours of the Cuban affair:

"An American U2, on a routine air-sampling mission between Alaska and the North Pole had picked the wrong star for its return flight, and was at that moment over the Soviet Union."

"Soviet fighter planes had scrambled. The U2 pilot had gone on the air — in the clear — to call for help. American fighters in Alaska had also scrambled and were attempting to rendezvous with the U2 to escort it home."

Hilsman said that when he got the news he ran upstairs in the White House to tell President Kennedy.

"The implications were obvious and horrendous," he said. "The Soviets might well regard this U2 flight as a last-minute intelligence reconnaissance in preparation for nuclear war."

Kennedy, reported Hilsman, "gave a short laugh that broke the tension. 'There is always some so-and-so,' he said, 'who doesn't get the word.'"

Eventually, wrote Hilsman, the U2 made it back to base safely.

Flunked Out

BENTON, Ky. (AP) — When work started on Kentucky Dam, the Tennessee Valley Authority devised a series of questions to pick the best workmen for the project.

One applicant was thrown for a loss by the very first question: "What does hydrodynamics mean?"

The man thought for awhile then wrote this answer: "It means I don't get no job."

Historian Urges Fight To Bare Harding Letters

NEW YORK (AP) — A renowned historian says irreparable harm will come to the Ohio Historical Society if it fails to try to prevent suppression of President Warren G. Harding's love letters to a married woman.

Allan Nevins, a former professor of history at Columbia University and a past president of the American Historical Association, says the society "will do itself and the State of Ohio irreparable harm if it fails to use all possible efforts to prevent any disposition of any Harding papers which results in the destruction of a single page."

Nevins has been asked by the American Heritage Co. to form a committee to "assist and advise" in the company's controversy over Harding's love letters to Mrs. James Phillips, wife of a Marion, Ohio, department store owner.

Harding's heirs named the company a defendant last week in a $1-million law suit. The heirs seek to suppress the recently discovered letters.

Mrs. Phillips died in 1960. The letters were discovered in a shoebox in her house.

Also named in the suit are Kenneth W. Duckett, curator of manuscripts at the Ohio Historical Society, which has turned the letters over to Marion County Probate Court; Francis Russell, a writer who came upon the letters while preparing a book on Harding; and his book publisher, McGraw-Hill Publishing Co.

George Harding III, the president's nephew, filed the suit.

American Heritage said it has placed in a vault in a New York bank photographic copies of the love letters. The company said the copies, in a sealed package, will remain in the vault pending a court decision.

Castro Said Stirring Up U.S. Negroes

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Former Cuban President Manuel Urrutia has accused Fidel Castro of having a hand in racial violence in the United States.

Urrutia, Castro's first chief executive, said Monday in an interview that the Cuban dictator "has from the start of his rule shown an interest in stirring up American Negroes."

"Now he maintains a regular English language broadcast from Havana designed to incite American Negroes to rebellion," he said.

Urrutia referred to "Radio Free Dixie," a broadcast by Robert Williams, Negro from Monroe, N.C., who fled to Cuba after being indicted on a kidnapping charge stemming from racial trouble.

Urrutia, who broke with Castro in 1960, announced plans to form a new anti-Castro party, to be called "Fighting Democratic Unity."

LAKE MICHIGAN DROPPING—Don Bruno, a school teacher, indicates where the Lake Michigan water level was on Chicago's north side last year, and you can see where it is now. The sinking Great Lakes water level is causing millions in losses for ore boats alone, because they cannot carry as much cargo. Water experts and Army Engineers Corps discussed correction possibilities at a Michigan State University meeting recently.

The Pickaway County 4-H Band which made its first appearance during the county fair as a part of the opening ceremonies last night will give concerts before and during the harness races at the grandstand on Tuesday and Wednesday beginning 3:30 p. m.

The band will also appear as a part of the grandstand Band Festival program on Wednesday evening. On Friday afternoon the band will give a concert at the 4-H Grange Building following the Home Economics Demonstrations.

Organized less than a year ago, the band is made of 4-H members from every county school district. Advisers for the group are Mrs. Ralph Dunkel, Mrs. Sterling Poling, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schein and Billy Rihl. Drexel Poling is the director.

The 4-H band is also scheduled for two concerts at the Ohio State Fair on Aug. 30.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lyndon B. Johnson dropped the "if" in talking of his own presidential nomination when he dropped Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and some others as vice presidential possibilities. So—

It can be accepted now, in case there was any doubt, that come September President Johnson probably will be out pouncing the campaign trail for President Johnson all around the country, by plane, train, helicopter and motorcade.

Johnson may not acknowledge this, or even know it for sure yet. Some of his lieutenants think he may want to turn over the bulge of the campaigning to his running mate. They suggest the President might touch base in most of the big cities and the states with big votes, but on political sorties of a couple or three days.

The spirit of the old political firehorse may prevail, however, once the campaign gong starts clanging.

By tradition, Democrats start the gong going at an appearance of their presidential nominee at a Labor Day rally in Detroit's Cadillac Square. When Johnson was in Detroit in June he said that "if events work out, I'll be there."

The President hasn't ridden a train since he became president. This may change.

California Democrats reportedly want Johnson out there at least twice before election day. It's a big, long state, with a big electoral vote, and one of the classic campaign routes is by special train down the valleys.

In 1960, Johnson got in some effective licks from the back porch of a train tooting through the South. The son of the Confederacy may want to go back again, with his folksy stories about the kinfolk plus another appeal "not as a Southerner to Southerners but as an American to Americans" — as he put it four years ago.

The Democrats are going to hit hard in the Midwest. Some areas there, such as "Little Egypt," in Southern Illinois, can be worked easily by train and car.

In any event: Johnson may campaign in half the states or more. He says, "I expect to appear in various parts of the country."

It looks as if he won't debate Republican nominee Barry Goldwater on television.

Parts of the South look shaky, but Johnson isn't writing off any region.

He counts on prosperity as the top vote getting issue, an issue that may help offset some of a "white backlash" against racial demonstrations.

He says he will talk about all the issues, "foreign policy is an appropriate subject."

"Most campaigns are rough campaigns," Johnson says. This one probably will be no exception.

Indian Lake is the source of the Great Miami River and hence was well known to the canoe travelling Indians who inhabited this central section of Ohio.

This State Lake has an area of 5,800 acres and is widely known as a fishing spot. Countless cottages and resorts line its shores. Bordering U.S. Route 33 at Russell's Point, Indian Lake is readily accessible from all parts of Ohio.

Many docks around this sprawling lake are available for boat rentals and there are swimming and picnicking areas. Camping areas are also available.

Solon Decries Bank Lobby's 'Gift' Offer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A member of the House Banking Committee was offered—and rejected — $14,000 worth of bank stock as a gift, committee Chairman Wright Patman said Monday.

Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez, D-Tex., later identified himself as the committee member.

Patman mentioned the purported incident in a speech prepared for delivery in the House. Without mentioning any names, he said he was proud of his committee colleague for ordering "the would-be donors" out of his office.

Gonzalez told a reporter an offer of stock was made to him in connection with a proposal that he become director of a bank.

"I didn't regard this as a big lobbying plot, but as an offer from a businessman who apparently thought there might be some advantage to him in the arrangement," he said.

"But I thought it would be highly improper for me, since sooner or later I would have to vote on legislation affecting banks, to accept such a proposal, so I did not even let the conversation run long enough to explain it in full."

Patman had this to say: "One clever means of anti-public action by the bankers' lobby is as subtle as a wart on a movie actress' nose. It takes the form of offering a congressman bank stock either free or at a cost greatly under the market value."

"A member of my committee was approached and offered $14,000 worth of bank stock as a gift. I am proud to report that he is of such calibre that he told the would-be donors to get out of his office and stay out—and in language unfit for this occasion."

Patman, a Texas Democrat, devoted most of his speech to an exposition of his view of the principles of money and credit and of his argument that the Federal Reserve System should be brought more directly under the control of the Treasury and national administration.

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — The Alabama Legislature meets in special session today to see if it can pass a congressional redistricting bill and perhaps lessen the chance of Republican victories in November.

Keynoting the session was an address by Gov. George Wallace.

The legislature's past failure to agree on new district lines in the wake of the 1960 census, which cost Alabama one House seat, has forced the Democratic congressmen and their Republican opponents to run from the state-at-large instead of by districts.

Leaders of both parties concede that passage of a redistricting bill — enabling the Democratic congressmen to run in the districts where they live — would diminish the GOP prospects.

Six of the seven congressmen seeking re-election survived the Democratic primaries and were

Woman Held For Stabbing Mother of 3

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP)—A 21-year-old woman was held on a first degree murder charge here today in connection with the fatal stabbing of a divorced mother of three.

Police said Miss Janet Sue Plant surrendered shortly before midnight Monday night, ending a statewide search for her.

She was named Monday in a first-degree murder warrant issued by Wayne County prosecutor James K. Leedy. The charge grew out of an argument Sunday night in a tavern parking lot near Wooster during which Mrs. Nettie Stutler, 25, of Wooster, was slain with a five-inch hunting knife, the prosecutor said.

Leedy said Mrs. Stutler was stabbed twice in the abdomen after she and Miss Plant got into a fight outside the Pines Tavern on Ohio 30 two miles east of Wooster.

The prosecutor said witnesses saw Miss Plant flee from the scene of the slaying with a woman in a car bearing West Virginia license plates. The murder weapon was found on the seat of another car in which the victim was taken to a hospital.

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — The Alabama Legislature meets in special session today to see if it can pass a congressional redistricting bill and perhaps lessen the chance of Republican victories in November.

Keynoting the session was an address by Gov. George Wallace.

The legislature's past failure to agree on new district lines in the wake of the 1960 census, which cost Alabama one House seat, has forced the Democratic congressmen and their Republican opponents to run from the state-at-large instead of by districts.

Leaders of both parties concede that passage of a redistricting bill — enabling the Democratic congressmen to run in the districts where they live — would diminish the GOP prospects.

Six of the seven congressmen seeking re-election survived the Democratic primaries and were

Woman Held For Stabbing Mother of 3

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP)—A 21-year-old woman was held on a first-degree murder charge here today in connection with the fatal stabbing of a divorced mother of three.

Police said Miss Janet Sue Plant surrendered shortly before midnight Monday night, ending a statewide search for her.

She was named Monday in a first-degree murder warrant issued by Wayne County prosecutor James K. Leedy. The charge grew out of an argument Sunday night in a tavern parking lot near Wooster during which Mrs. Nettie Stutler, 25, of Wooster, was slain with a five-inch hunting knife, the prosecutor said.

Leedy said Mrs. Stutler was stabbed twice in the abdomen after she and Miss Plant got into a fight outside the Pines Tavern on Ohio 30 two miles east of Wooster.

The prosecutor said witnesses saw Miss Plant flee from the scene of the slaying with a woman in a car bearing West Virginia license plates. The murder weapon was found on the seat of another car in which the victim was taken to a hospital.

Wagner Fails To Get Hit Against Nats

CLEVELAND (AP) — Leon Wagner had the dubious distinction of being the only Cleveland Indian not to get a hit in the opening game of the series against Washington here.

But Wagner, whose mighty bat has won many a ball game this year for Cleveland, was making no excuses. He was giving credit where it was due.

"The real story was the little men," he said after the Indians defeated the Senators Monday night, 4-2. "(Chico) Salmon, (Dick) Howser, (Vic) Davalillo—they won it with their hitting and running."

High on the list of Monday night's heroes, too, was veteran right hander Dick Donovan, who blew a six run lead when Cleveland lost to the Senators just four days ago.

Donovan gave up six hits and was in serious trouble only in the third inning, when Washington scored both their runs with three hits to tie the score.

Luis Tiant came in to retire in final two batters in the ninth as Donovan registered his sixth victory in 13 decisions. It was the Indians' third straight victory and fifth in six games.

Although the tribe collected 14 hits, nine Indians were left on the bases. Davalillo and Howser each had three hits and Woodie Held and Billy Moran two apiece.

Second National Bank Wins Little League Red Division

The Second National Bank tripped IOOF, 13-2, last night as the teams played-off a tie game which had ended in a 16-16 knot on July 6.

The win leaves the Second National crew with first place honors in the Red division of the Little League Minors with a 10-3 record. IOOF took Black League honors with a 9-4 mark.

The championship playoff, which pits the winners of the Red against the top team in the black, will be played in a series of the best two-of-three games. Tomorrow night at 5:15, the first game of the series will be played at Ted Lewis Park, with IOOF and Second Bank furnishing the opposition.

Thursday night, the second game of the series will be played under the lights at the park, with the same schedule planned should the series go three games.

IN LAST night's replay, IOOF drew first blood with a run in the bottom of the first inning. Battling in the top of the second, the Bankers garnered five runs to win the game. They scored two in the fourth, four in the fifth and two in the sixth inning. IOOF managed a single tally in the final frame.

Hunter Certain pitched the win for the Second Bank. He twirled a neat four - hitter, throwing third strikes past 13 batters and walking three.

Certain paced his team at the plate with a double and three singles. Joe Reeser cracked four singles, Dave Sowers added

Chase, 10-9; Bridgeport whipped Euclid, 9-3 Steubenville mashed Athens, 10-1; Portsmouth rolled over Springfield, 14-4; Ottawa trounced Ravenna, 18-7, and Lima shut out Marion, 9-0. The finals are scheduled for Saturday.

Sisler Likes Pinchhitting For Hutch

CINCINNATI (AP) — Coach Dick Sisler says he's enjoyed running the Cincinnati Reds but "I hope and pray" that Fred Hutchinson's health returns and he "can take over again."

Manager Hutchinson, stricken with a chest cancer, was released Monday from Christ Hospital, where he was confined for a week of tests. But it was not announced if Hutchinson, 44, would rejoin the team tonight for a doubleheader with the Milwaukee Braves.

The decision apparently will be left to Hutchinson. A club spokesman said Hutch will return when "he says he feels up to it." Hutchinson went from the hospital to his suburban residence here to relax.

Sisler, who has guided the Reds since July 27, said he didn't know either when Hutch will return, "as far as I know I'll still be in charge until he comes back actively," Sisler said Monday night.

Sisler said he met with Hutchinson after his release and the manager told him he's "feeling a little better." The Reds have refused to comment on the results of Hutchinson's examination.

OSU Booter May Be Key For Star '11'

CHICAGO (AP) — During the College All-Star drills when big strong men battered each other in preparation for Friday night's game against the Chicago Bears, one big, strong man played a relatively lonely role.

Dick Van Raaphorst of Ohio State took no part in the muscle vs. muscle scrimmages. If it hadn't been for his football uniform, Van Raaphorst would have appeared to be a stranger to the practice sessions.

Over and over again Van Raaphorst practiced what he does best — kicking field goals. And if the All-Stars defeat the Bears in Soldier Field, the booting Buckeye might provide the margin of victory.

Van Raaphorst, a 21-year-old 6-1 220 pounder, was one of the top field goal kickers in college ranks last season. He set a Big Ten record with six goals in conference competition and eight for the year. He boots them long and he boots them short.

Because of the tremendous defense the Bears are expected to throw at the All-Stars, Van Raaphorst should have plenty of chances to try his specialty.

Logan Elm Grid Meet

Jacksonville Ends IL Losing Streak

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Don't count Jacksonville out of the International League pennant race yet.

The Suns snapped a five-game losing streak Monday night by beating Rochester 4 - 3 and moved to within one game of league-leading Syracuse, the team which knocked Jacksonville out of a month's stay at the top.

Atlanta downed Syracuse 4-3 and Toronto took two from Columbus, 4-0 and 2-1, in other games. Buffalo and Richmond were not scheduled.

Toronto won its second doubleheader in as many days from Columbus. Eli Grba shut out the Jets in the opener despite giving up 10 hits and allowing men on base in every inning but the third.

Winner of the first USGA Open was Horace Rawlins, 19, an English professional. No one so young has won since.

Wagner Fails To Get Hit Against Nats

CLEVELAND (AP) — Leon Wagner had the dubious distinction of being the only Cleveland Indian not to get a hit in the opening game of the series against Washington here.

But Wagner, whose mighty bat has won many a ball game this year for Cleveland, was making no excuses. He was giving credit where it was due.

"The real story was the little men," he said after the Indians defeated the Senators Monday night, 4-2. "(Chico) Salmon, (Dick) Howser, (Vic) Davalillo—they won it with their hitting and running."

High on the list of Monday night's heroes, too, was veteran right hander Dick Donovan, who blew a six run lead when Cleveland lost to the Senators just four days ago.

Donovan gave up six hits and was in serious trouble only in the third inning, when Washington scored both their runs with three hits to tie the score.

Luis Tiant came in to retire in final two batters in the ninth as Donovan registered his sixth victory in 13 decisions. It was the Indians' third straight victory and fifth in six games.

Although the tribe collected 14 hits, nine Indians were left on the bases. Davalillo and Howser each had three hits and Woodie Held and Billy Moran two apiece.

Junior Baseball Tourney Continues

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—It's win or say goodbye to any title hopes today for seven of the 14 teams vying for the American Legion junior baseball championship.

All 14 teams had games on tap in today's second round of the double elimination tournament, and the seven which lost their games Monday needed a victory today to stay in the running.

In Monday's action, defending champion Ashtabula downed Cincinnati Budde, 11-8; Wadsworth edged Columbus Camp

Second National Bank Wins Little League Red Division

The Second National Bank tripped IOOF, 13-2, last night as the teams played off a tie game which had ended in a 16-16 knot on July 6.

The win leaves the Second National crew with first place honors in the Red division of the Little League Minors with a 10-3 record. IOOF took Black League honors with a 9-4 mark.

The championship playoff, which pits the winners of the Red against the top team in the black, will be played in a series of the best two-of-three games. Tomorrow night at 5:15, the first game of the series will be played at Ted Lewis Park, with IOOF and Second Bank furnishing the opposition.

Thursday night, the second game of the series will be played under the lights at the park, with the same schedule planned should the series go three games.

IN LAST night's replay, IOOF drew first blood with a run in the bottom of the first inning. Batting in the top of the second, the Bankers garnered five runs to win the game. They scored two in the fourth, four in the fifth and two in the sixth inning. IOOF managed a single tally in the final frame.

Hunter Certain pitched the win for the Second Bank. He twirled a neat four-hitter, throwing third strikes past 13 batters and walking three.

Certain paced his team at the plate with a double and three singles. Joe Reeser cracked four singles, Dave Sowers added a homerun and a single, Grover Dresbach hit a homerun, Rick Metcalf had a triple and John Payne lashed a double.

Mike Webb was the losing pitcher as he allowed 13 hits. He was relieved in the fifth inning, with two batters out, by Wirtie Teets. Webb fanned six batters and walked two. Teets walked one and whiffed two, allowing six hits.

Teets had the only extra base blow for his team, a triple. Jim Ramey was the top hitter, lashing two singles in three trips and scoring a run.

OSU Booter May Be Key For Star '11'

CHICAGO (AP) — During the College All-Star drills when big strong men battered each other in preparation for Friday night's game against the Chicago Bears, one big, strong man played a relatively lonely role.

Dick Van Raaphorst of Ohio State took no part in the muscle vs. muscle scrimmages. If it hadn't been for his football uniform, Van Raaphorst would have appeared to be a stranger to the practice sessions.

Over and over again Van Raaphorst practiced what he does best — kicking field goals. And if the All-Stars defeat the Bears in Soldier Field, the booting Buckeye might provide the margin of victory.

Van Raaphorst, a 21-year-old 6-1 220 pounder, was one of the top field goal kickers in college ranks last season. He set a Big Ten record with six goals in conference competition and eight for the year. He boots them long and he boots them short.

Because of the tremendous defense the Bears are expected to throw at the All-Stars, Van Raaphorst should have plenty of chances to try his specialty.

Logan Elm Grid Meet

An organizational meeting for all interested football candidates at Logan Elm High School has been called for 7:30 p. m. Monday at the high school. It was announced today by Coach Keith Merrin.

Coach Salty Parker of the Los Angeles Angels began his career as a shortstop, playing under the name of Charles Francis with Moline, Ill., in 1930.

Sisler Likes Pinchhitting For Hutch

CINCINNATI (AP) — Coach Dick Sisler says he's enjoyed running the Cincinnati Reds but "I hope and pray" that Fred Hutchinson's health returns and he "can take over again."

Manager Hutchinson, stricken with a chest cancer, was released Monday from Christ Hospital, where he was confined for a week of tests. But it was not announced if Hutchinson, 44, would rejoin the team tonight for a doubleheader with the Milwaukee Braves.

The decision apparently will be left to Hutchinson. A club spokesman said Hutch will return when "he says he feels up to it." Hutchinson went from the hospital to his suburban residence here to relax.

Sisler, who has guided the Reds since July 27, said he didn't know either when Hutch will return. "As far as I know I'll still be in charge until he comes back actively," Sisler said Monday night.

Sisler said he met with Hutchinson after his release and the manager told him he's "feeling a little better." The Reds have refused to comment on the results of Hutchinson's examination.

Jacksonville Ends IL Losing Streak

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Don't count Jacksonville out of the International League pennant race yet.

The Suns snapped a five-game losing streak Monday night by beating Rochester 4 - 3 and moved to within one game of league-leading Syracuse, the team which knocked Jacksonville out of a month's stay at the top.

Atlanta downed Syracuse 4-3 and Toronto took two from Columbus, 4-0 and 2-1, in other games. Buffalo and Richmond were not scheduled.

Toronto won its second doubleheader in as many days from Columbus. Eli Grba shut out the Jets in the opener despite giving up 10 hits and allowing men on base in every inning but the third.

Winner of the first USGA Open was Horace Rawlins, 19, an English professional. No one so young has won since.

Army's 1965 golf captain is Harry Joyner who comes from Wichita Falls, Tex.

Pittsburgh's Bonus Baby Is Paying Off

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Bob Bailey, highly touted youngster who dragged through a poor rookie season under the pressure of a whopping bonus, is beginning to pay dividends.

A $150,000 bonus baby who batted a dismal .228 last season, Bailey continued his heavy hitting Monday night by slamming a key triple in the eighth inning and a game-winning single in the ninth that gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 3-2 victory over the San Francisco Giants.

The two hits lifted Bailey's average to .304 and boosted the Pirates into third place in the tight National League pennant struggle, 4½ games behind the front-running Philadelphia Phillies and 2½ lengths behind the Giants.

A vital offensive weapon in the Pirates' bid to duplicate their 1960 pennant, Bailey has always spoken freely about the pressure applied by the gigantic bonus and his meager accomplishments as a rookie last year when the Pirates nosedived to eighth place.

Bailey's key hits dropped the Giants two games behind the Phillies, who were rained out of a game against the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Only two other games were scheduled, both in the American League. Baltimore rode Milt Pappas' shutout pitching to a 7-0 victory over the Los Angeles Angels and to within one percentage point of the first-place New York Yankees. And Cleveland defeated Washington 4-2.

Jose Pagan was involved in both San Francisco runs as the Giants built a 2-0 lead. He beat out a bunt in the fifth inning and eventually scored on Duke Snider's single. In the sixth he drove in Tom Haller, who had doubled, with a sacrifice fly.

Bailey then got the Pirates rolling against Bob Bolin, who had a five-hit shutout through seven innings. After Manny Mota stroked a pinch-hit double with one out in the eighth, Bailey slammed his triple and came home with the tying run on Bill Virdon's single.

In the ninth, after Bill Mazaroski and Dick Schotfield had singled, Bailey came up with two out and poked a grounder up the middle for the clincher.

Pappas, bringing his record to 10-5, blanked the Angels on eight hits and did not allow a runner past second base. While he was shutting out Los Angeles for the third time this season, the Orioles pounded Bo Belinsky and four successors for 13 hits.

Dick Brown collected three hits for Baltimore while Brooks Robinson and Sam Bowens each drove in two runs with a pair of hits.

The Indians broke a 2-2 tie against the Senators in the fourth when Chico Salmon doubled, Vic Davalillo beat out an infield hit and Billy Moran followed with a sacrifice fly. Davalillo and Dick Hower each collected three hits in a 14-hit attack.

Dick Donovan, 6-7, got the victory with Luis Tiant's relief help.

'Rosie Reds Inc.' To Boost Redlegs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds baseball team apparently is getting some organized feminine support.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said non-profit articles of incorporation were filed today by "Rosie Reds Inc." of Cincinnati.

The group said it seeks to "encourage women to organize to stimulate interest and enthusiasm for the Cincinnati Reds."

Al Higgins of Cincinnati is listed as statutory agent. The articles were filed by Nieman Aug. Elder & Jacobs of Cincinnati.

Delaware Reservoir off U.S. Route 23, just north of the city of Delaware, is a 1,300-acre body of water that attracts fishermen, boaters, picnickers, and in the fall, hunters.

Unlimited horsepower for motors makes this a most popular inland place for those with outboard motors big enough for Lake Erie.

Fishing is good for bass, crappies, bluegills and catfish.

In all, there is an area of 7,378 acres of land and water in this State park property, which makes it one of the most extensive public recreational areas available the year round.

The Wildlife Division stocks the hunting area with pheasants each year.

Browns Defense Rated as Equal To Any in NFL

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — How does the Cleveland Browns' defensive line rate with those of other teams in the National Football League?

"The material is as good as anything in the Eastern Division," Browns line coach Nick Skorich said Monday. "I know it's much better than we had with the Eagles last season."

"Philadelphia had a fine tackle in Riley Gannels. There are several of his caliber here. We not only have quality players but I am pleased with the depth, also."

Skorich, who was head coach of the Eagles last season, feels the Browns' linemen have been a "reading" type of unit and that the change to a "charging" line soon will be completed.

By "reading," he said he meant the defenders try to figure out what the offensive line will do. Studying mannerisms, stance and other similar characteristics involves a certain amount of hesitation.

Skorich called defensive tackle Jim Kanicki, who weighs 265 pounds, "a strong young fellow who should have a great future in pro football."

"We're working on him to keep down, hit with those shoulder pads," Skorich said. "He's big enough to bowl over some guards."

Skorich believes Dick Modzelewski, obtained from the New York Giants, will help the defensive line.

"Mo was right where he was supposed to be during that Saturday bumping," Skorich recalled. "You won't find him making many mistakes."

Bob Gain and Frank Parker have been with the No. 1 unit at tackle with Paul Wiggin and Bill Glass at the ends. Modzelewski plays the left side and Kanicki the right. Billy Truax, second draft choice from Louisiana State, may join the group when his injured leg heals. He would work at end.

Buddy Dial, a prize addition to the Dallas Cowboys' pass-receiving corps, rested today after a successful operation, but the former Pittsburgh Steelers star will be a big question mark when his new club opens the National Football League season next month.

Dial, acquired from the Steelers last December, underwent surgery in Dallas Monday to correct a tear in the middle muscle of his right thigh. The Rice alumnus was hurt last week during a workout at the Cowboys' training camp in Thousand Oaks, Calif.

"We are very pleased with the results," said General Manager Tex Schramm. But, according to team doctors, Dial won't be able to run at full speed for about six weeks. The Cowboys and St. Louis Cardinals kick off the regular NFL schedule at Dallas Sept. 12.

Another pass-catching standout, Chris Burford of the Kansas City Chiefs, underwent a knee operation today in Dallas. The American Football League star had a similar operation two years ago. He injured the knee two weeks ago and will be sidelined for six more weeks. KC Coach Hank Stram said half-back Abner Haynes will replace Burford at split end in the Chiefs' exhibition opener with the Oakland Raiders Sunday.

The NFL champion Chicago Bears, preparing for their Friday night date with the College All-Stars at Chicago, went through stiff offensive and defensive drills after Coach George Halas said scouting reports show the current All-Star squad is stronger than the one which upset Green Bay last year.

The Packers, who meet St. Louis Saturday night at New Orleans, examined pictures of the club's first intrasquad game and Coach Vince Lombardi lauded the performances of rookie tackles Steve Wright, Alabama, and John McDowell, St. John's, Minn.

The Cardinals held a 90-minute workout in 95-degree weather, stressing offensive patterns to be employed against the Packers.

The Baltimore Colts will play their intrasquad charity game, rained out Monday night, tonight. The Municipal Stadium game is expected to draw 40,000 fans.

Coach Jo Jo White of the Milwaukee Braves played 877 major league games. He broke in as an outfielder with Carrollton in the Georgia-Alabama League in 1928.

GREENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Carl Steinfelt of Rochester, N.Y., came up with the best qualifying round yet at the world horseshoe pitching tournament Monday night with 558 of a possible 600 points and a 90.5 ring-percentage.

Steinfelt came up with his spectacular round after extremely hot temperatures had postponed Monday's qualifying until sundown.

Elmer Hohl of Wellesley, Ont., moved into the fourth qualifying spot with 534; Ralph Maddox of Poca, W. Va., took over fifth with 533, and Dale Dixon of De Moines, Iowa, moved into a tie for sixth place with 531.

The 1962 champion, Paul Focht of Dayton, Ohio, got only 504 points for the 21st qualifying spot.

Qualifying continues today and tomorrow, and the top 32 qualifiers will begin pitching for the World Horseshoe Championship Thursday.

Last year's champion, John Monasmith of Yakima, Wash., is exempt from qualifying.

Dale Carson of Baltimore, Md., got 234 of a possible 300 points Monday to move into the top spot in the senior's class. Sue Gillespie of Portland, Ind., continues to lead the women with 259 of a possible 300, and Andy Deem of Parkersburg, W. Va., still leads juniors with 117 of a possible 150.

Championship events for women begin Wednesday afternoon.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Come fall, it will be Mickey Rooney against Dick Van Dyke.

If television has a boot hill, it is network time periods opposite hit shows.

Perfectly good programs often die from lack of attention. Last season's victims included "The Judy Garland Show," "Bonanza," and NBC's "Espionage," which never had a chance against CBS' "Beverly Hillsbillies."

This season ABC proposed to toss the veteran Rooney into the ratings battle against the top-rated "The Dick Van Dyke Show."

Rooney, the pint-sized David in the fight, appears unconcerned about what could be an eight-ball position. His "Mickey" series centers about a family, the usual husband, wife and two children, who inherit a resort hotel.

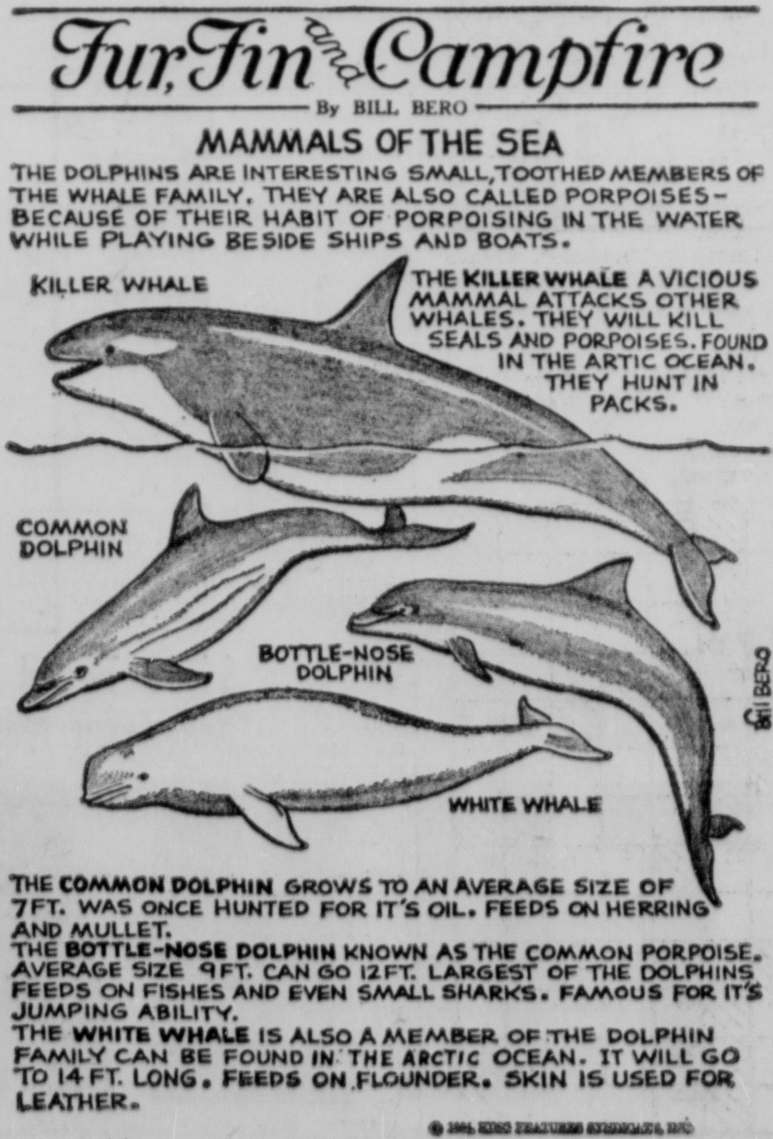

A Hollywood film studio is a place where the real blends with the unreal and imagination merges with practicality so often and so well that it is hard to tell where one leaves off and the other begins.

At 20th Century-Fox, for instance, they have constructed permanent outdoor sets for ABC's new "Peyton Place," in an area containing the studio's commissary, fire department and other work-a-day buildings.

The commissary has been dressed up with a sign and will be used as the Peyton Place Hotel. The fire department building has been transformed into the "Peyton Place Fire Department."

Jimmy Patton, dean of safety-men in the National Football League, is in his 10th year with the New York Giants.

Nearly All U.S. Aides Getting Pay Boosts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Practically all of Uncle Sam's employees — from Congress members to postmen and servicemen — are assured of fatter pay checks.

Congress approved Monday, and President Johnson is expected to sign quickly, a $207 million pay raise for the military.

And Senate and House conferees reached agreement on a $556 million increase for the 1.7 million classified civil service and postal workers, and top government officials, Congress members and federal judges.

The House plans to act today on the civil pay bill, which carries annual raises of $7,500 for congressmen and $10,000 for Cabinet officials. The Senate was expected to act later in the day or Wednesday.

The increases for the armed forces, to take effect the first of next month, will be their second in a year as part of the new policy of reviewing servicemen's pay scales every year.

The House Armed Services Committee told the House it had omitted boosts for draftees and newly enlisted men because they are in training status and because they will receive three or four increases in their first 11 months of service due to promotions.

The pay bill agreed on by Senate and House conferees would be retroactive to the first pay period after July 1 for all but the members of Congress and high-level congressional employees. They must wait until next January for their raises.

The President has strongly backed this measure, contending it is essential to retain key personnel in government.

The bill carries these annual increases:

$8,000 for the vice president and speaker of the House, which would raise them to $43,000.

$7,500 for members of Congress, to $30,000.

$10,000 for Cabinet officers, to $35,000.

Up to $7,000 for other government executives, with a scale of $26,000 to $30,000.

$4,500 for the nine Supreme Court justices, to $40,000 for the chief justice and $39,500 for the others, and $7,500 for all other federal judges, including a scale of $30,000 for district judges and $33,000 for those on the Court of Appeals.

An average 4.3 per cent for $11 million classified workers, with a range of 2.7 to 22.5 per cent. The top level in civil service would go from $20,000 to $24,500.

An average of 5.6 per cent for 600,000 postal employees.

Camping Out In Greece

ATHENS (AP) — Greece is expecting 25 per cent more tourists to camp in the country's organized sites in 1964 than camped in 1963.

Tourism Office figures indicate that 14,000 pitched their tents in 1962. Many chose the seashores and fewer the mountain sides.

By nationality, the French led the campers while tourists from Germany and Great Britain tied for second place. Greeks were listed as 27th and Americans were in a tiny minority.

Plans are being made to set up camping sites at short distances from landing points of ferries linking Italy and Greece.

Housewives Rout Choppers

ELMONT, N.Y. (AP)—Housewives pushing baby carriages have routed the tree choppers in the first skirmish over the shade trees of Evans Avenue.

Town officials of this Long Island community want to widen the streets, lined with oaks and elms that stand between the sidewalks and the pavement.

The women of Elmont, many of them refugees from the concrete canyons of New York City, want to preserve the greenery.

They moved out in force Monday.

Mrs. Charles Spanier stationed herself under a condemned tree, looked up at a workman and said:

"If you cut off one more branch, you'll have to drop it on my head to get rid of it."

The workman climbed down. Pushing their infants in front of them, a dozen housewives led by Mrs. Hope Fox surrounded a truck that was to haul away the dismembered trees. They clogged Evans Avenue and, after an hour, forced the workmen to give up for the day.

Town officials were not available for comment.

"I have nothing against drainage pipes or new curbing," said Mrs. Fox. "It's just that we moved out to the suburbs because we like the country atmosphere, which is rapidly disappearing."

"This whole thing started months ago, when we first heard that the streets in a 22-block area south of the Hempstead Turnpike were going to be widened.

"We understood then that some of the trees would have to go, but there would be enough room between the sidewalk and the curb to plant new ones if we wanted to. But, when the man came around last Friday to mark the trees that were to be cut, he marked all but four in the whole area and told us that the curbs would be right next to the sidewalk.

"Solid cement! Imagine that!"

Barry Ending Yacht Cruise

Return Scheduled For Washington

BALBOA, Calif. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater takes to the open sea again today for what could be his last day of complete rest until after the November election.

His schedule called for almost a repeat of Sunday's outing: A leisurely trip on the Sundance, an 83-foot one-time PT boat that has been converted into a luxury yacht.

Wednesday Goldwater heads back to Washington to plunge into a campaign schedule.

On Thursday and Friday he will talk to separate groups of Republican senators and House members. Also on Friday's schedule is a speech to a GOP candidate school run by Rep. Bob Wilson of California.

"I will not be surprised," Goldwater said Monday, "if the speech has some political overtones. In fact, throughout August, I will be making speeches fairly regularly and I might be dealing fairly regularly with political issues in each appearance."

His comment on campaign plans was in answer to written questions submitted by newsmen. A dozen queries were given to his secretaries to give to him, but he answered only half of them.

One question: "What are your comments on the PT boat attacks off South Viet Nam?"

Goldwater replied by asking these three questions:

"I think the American people are entitled to ask some questions in regard to this event: Does the presence of American destroyers in the area signify the possible landing of larger American ground forces?"

"Does it mean medium bombers are going to be used to interdict the supply lines? Does it mean a change is taking place in foreign policy at White House and State Department levels?"

Lord Baltimore gave 560 acres of land near what is now Washington to Col. Joseph Belt of the colonial militia. Its name appeared on the 1725 grant as "Cheivy Chace."

JOSEPH W. CLIFFORD, Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas of Franklin County, Ohio, Dated at the City of Columbus, Ohio, this 17th day of July, 1964.

Nearly All U.S. Aides Getting Pay Boosts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Practically all of Uncle Sam's employees — from Congress members to postmen and servicemen — are assured of fatter pay checks.

Congress approved Monday, and President Johnson is expected to sign quickly, a $307 million pay raise for the military.

And Senate and House conferees reached agreement on a $556 million increase for the 1.7 million classified civil service and postal workers, and top government officials, Congress members and federal judges.

The House plans to act today

on the civil pay bill, which carries annual raises of $7,500 for congressmen and $10,000 for Cabinet officials. The Senate was expected to act later in the day or Wednesday.

The increases for the armed forces, to take effect the first of next month, will be their second in a year as part of the new policy of reviewing servicemen's pay scales every year.

The House Armed Services Committee told the House it had omitted boosts for draftees and newly enlisted men because they are in training status and because they will receive three or four increases in their first 11 months of service due to promotions.

The pay bill agreed on by Senate and House conferees would be retroactive to the first pay period after July 1 for all but the members of Congress and high-level congressional employees. They must wait until next January for their raises.

The President has strongly backed this measure, contending it is essential to retain key personnel in government.

The bill carries these annual increases:

$8,000 for the vice president and speaker of the House, which would raise them to $43,000.

$7,500 for members of Congress, to $30,000.

$10,000 for Cabinet officers, to $35,000.

Camping Out In Greece

ATHENS (AP) — Greece is expecting 25 per cent more tourists to camp at the country's organized sites in 1964 than camped in 1963.

Tourism Office figures indicate that 14,000 pitched their tents in 1962. Many chose the seashores and fewer the mountain sides.

By nationality, the French led the campers while tourists from Germany and Great Britain tied for second place. Greeks were listed as 27th and Americans were in a tiny minority.

Plans are being made to set up camping sites at short distances from landing points of ferries linking Italy and Greece.

Housewives Rout Choppers

ELMONT, N.Y. (AP)—Housewives pushing baby carriages have routed the tree choppers in the first skirmish over the shade trees of Evans Avenue.

Town officials of this Long Island community want to widen the streets, lined with oaks and elms that stand between the sidewalks and the pavement.

The women of Elmont, many of them refugees from the concrete canyons of New York City, want to preserve the greenery.

They moved out in force Monday.

Mrs. Charles Spanier stationed herself under a condemned tree, looked up at a workman and said:

"If you cut off one more branch, you'll have to drop it on my head to get rid of it."

The workman climbed down. Pushing their infants in front of them, a dozen housewives led by Mrs. Hope Fox surrounded a truck that was to haul away the dismembered trees. They clogged Evans Avenue and, after an hour, forced the workmen to give up for the day.

Town officials were not available for comment.

"I have nothing against drainage pipes or new curbing," said Mrs. Fox. "It's just that we moved out to the suburbs because we like the country atmosphere, which is rapidly disappearing.

"This whole thing started months ago, when we first heard that the streets in a 22-block area south of the Hempstead Turnpike were going to be widened.

"We understood then that some of the trees would have to go, but there would be enough room between the sidewalk and the curb to plant new ones if we wanted to. But, when the man came around last Friday to mark the trees that were to be cut, he marked all but four in the whole area and told us that the curbs would be right next to the sidewalk.

"Solid cement! Imagine that!"
